Powers at Brussels Conference Pass Resolution On War

Start to Draft Plans For China

BRUSSELS (CP)—The Nine-power Treaty Conference tonight adopted a declaration against Japan. Italy voted against it. The three Scandinavian states abstained from voting.

The Italian delegate, Count Luigi Aldrovandi-Marescotti, said he must vote against the declaration because Italy believed it presaged a course which could lead only to complications.

The conference voted against sending a copy of the declaration to the Japanese government, then adjourned until November 22.

The declaration was prepared by the United States, British and French delegates.

REPLY CAUSES REGRET

"The delegates of the states in session at Brussels, having taken cognizance of the reply of the Japanese government dated November 12, 1937, note with regret that the Japanese government persists in alleging that the conflict between China and Japan lies outside the framework of the Nine-power Treaty."

"The Japanese insist... that the conflict concerns only those two countries."

"The delegates in session at Brussels consider the conflict rightly concerns all the countries signatory to the Washington Treaty of 1922 and all the countries signatory to the Paris Pact of 1928, and in fact all the countries belonging to the family of nations."

ALL ARE AFFECTED

"It is undeniable that the present hostilities between China and Japan affect not only the rights but also the interests of all nations. They have caused great destruction to many nationals of outside powers and grave dis-

Japan Prepares Nanking Drive

Chinese "Hindenburg Line" Endangered By Invaders' Advance

SHANGHAI (AP)—Japanese forces endangered China's whole "Hindenburg Line" defences Monday in a drive on Soochow.

The offensive westward from Shanghai, Japanese officers said, was the opening of a campaign against Nanking, capital of China, 125 to 150 miles west of the "Hindenburg Line."

Advices from Nanking said Soochow had been desolated by more than 700 Japanese bombs dropped on it within 30 hours.

The central government was known to be resolved to defend Nanking. Knowledge of that determination and Soochow's fate hastened a heavy civilian exodus from Nanking by river, canal and road. Government officials remained, however.

Another Chinese capital, meanwhile, appeared in imminent danger in north China. Japanese columns were reported within 15 miles of Tsinan, capital of wealthy Shantung province. Esinan is the only provincial capital of north China still uncaptured by the Japanese.

Japan's converging forces on the Shanghai-Soochow front now hold an almost straight line from Chaoou, on Hangchow Bay, north to Palmarou, on the south bank of the Yangtze River.

Chinese defences appeared to be crumbling under the weight of superior Japanese armaments although the Chinese had about 400,000 troops in the field to Japan's 200,000.

After the Japanese had captured Kunshan, a strong point near the centre of the "Hindenburg Line," 35 miles west of Shanghai, they reported more than 50,000 Chinese fleeing in confusion by road and canal toward Soochow.

Nature Enhances Victoria's Beauty With Mantle of Snow

This picture of Manor Road, Craigdarroch, was taken early yesterday before the thaw had robbed the trees, shrubs and streets of their winter beauty. The snow which started to fall Saturday morning and continued for 24 hours, began to melt yesterday at noon and by this afternoon was rapidly vanishing before an assault of rain.

Paper Evidence At Powell Trial

Color of Sheets of Copy Discussed at Edmonton Libel Hearing

EDMONTON (CP)—Adjournment until this afternoon was taken in the trial of G. F. Powell, British Social Credit authority, on charges of defamatory libel before Mr. Justice W. C. Ives in the Supreme Court of Alberta today after evidence had been given respecting color of paper used in the printers' copy of the "Bankers' Toadies" leaflet.

The defence, conducted by Hugh Calais Macdonald, K.C., contended the printers' copy was on white paper while the notation given by Mr. Powell was on green paper. Mr. Powell's notation was said to have been sent to Joseph H. Unwin, Social Credit M.P.P. for Edson, who is appealing against conviction and sentence of three months on a charge of publishing a defamatory libel knowing it to be false.

It was stated Mr. Powell, who had already given evidence, might be recalled to the witness stand this afternoon.

Kidnap Victim Loses His Life

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP)—Dr. James I. Seder, 79-year-old kidnap victim held 10 days in an abandoned coal mine in what United States agents declared was a futile $50,000 extortion plot, died early today of pneumonia.

Dr. A. K. Kessler said "death was undoubtedly caused by exposure" while his patient had been held captive.

Prosecutor E. E. Winters announced he would confer later today with Judge H. Clay Wray on the impeding of a special grand jury and he would ask murder indictments against three suspects arrested last Friday by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Winters said he would ask the death penalty.

Dr. Seder was once a missionary to Japan.

Arnett A. Booth, 46, John Travis, 24, and Orville Adkins, 24, are the three prisoners held under $50,000 bond in the Charleston jail on the federal charges.

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—British Columbia's new Pattullo Bridge spanning the Fraser River here was opened today in a noon ceremony attended by Provincial Government and mainland civic officials and State of Washington representatives.

From the hands of an overworked workman, Premier T. D. Pattullo in formal morning dress took an acetylene torch and as its flame melted through the links of a tiny golden chain across the bridge roadway declared the $4,000,000 structure officially open to traffic.

As the severed ends of the chain clicked to the pavement the Premier declared:

"I now declare this bridge open for traffic and I trust that good luck may follow all who cross its portals with legitimate intent."

Then the Premier with Provincial Cabinet members and Washington State dignitaries headed a motor cavalcade to the north approach, first public traffic across the 7,500-foot long newest link in the Pacific Highway in British Columbia.

BROAD VISION

Prior to the chain-severing ceremony the Premier declared from the official platform near the south approach:

"I trust that this massive structure may be the symbol of a breadth of vision and practical measures for fulfillment thereunder in the future expansion and upbuilding of our glorious province."

He was preceded on the platform by Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, and Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands.

"The opening of this bridge to traffic marks a red letter day in the calendar of our history," the Public Works head said.

"The structure, its fabrication and design are the latest word of modern science. I am proud to have been Minister of Public Works during its construction."

The bridge was the forerunner of greater development to come in the provincial highway system, Mr. MacPherson concluded.

BOATS PASS BY

As the motored moved slowly across the four-lane structure to New Westminster's Queen's Park Arena and a banquet after the opening ceremonies, a fleet of small fishing boats moved up stream, passing beneath the span of the new bridge and then under the 33-year-old bridge a short distance upstream.

The new deck has four traffic lanes of 10 feet each and a six-foot pedestrian walk on the downstream side. It is equipped with a sodium vapor lighting system, latest development for fog driving.

Canada's Mines Aid Japanese

Chinese at Brussels Conference Report Metals Used in War

By GEORGE HAMBLETON BRUSSELS (CP)—Canada has been a substantial contributor to Japan's weapons of war, according to a statement issued today by the Chinese delegation to the Nine-power Treaty Conference.

The statement analyses Japan's dependence on foreign supplies for war materials. It says that in 1936 Japan imported aluminum, used in aircraft manufacture, valued at 12,000,000 yen ($3,480,000). Of this Canada furnished 71.7 per cent, Switzerland 16.6 per cent, Norway 6.6 per cent and the United States 4.1 per cent.

In the same year Japan imported 33,000,000 yen worth of copper, of which Canada furnished 97.11 per cent, and 11,000,000 yen worth of zinc, of which Canada supplied 5 per cent.

Roosevelt Urges Tax Reform As Congress Opens

U.S. Capital Must Be Encouraged in Productive Enterprise, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt recommended removal of tax injustices "to encourage productive enterprise" today in submitting a four-point legislative programme to the United States Congress.

In a message opening the special session which was read to the Senate and House by clerks, the President asked "early action" on legislation on farm crop control, labor wages and hours, reorganization of the executive branch and planning of natural resources.

But of at least equal importance to members were these remarks on taxes.

"Unjust provisions should be removed, provided such removal does not create new injustices."

"Nor can we at this time accept a revision of our tax laws which involves a reduction in the aggregate revenues or an increase in the aggregate tax burdens of those least able to bear them."

Relief General Through Province

Evidence of Victoria's record November snowfall was fast disappearing this morning under a driving rain which created slushy streets and taxed drains to the limit as it flowed down the roadsides.

Trouble crews of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company and the B.C. Telephone Company were busy engaged restoring partially disrupted services, while city gangs were kept busy cleaning the streets and drains to prevent flooding.

Cars abandoned on the Malahat on Saturday and Sunday were also being recovered today from the places where their owners had left them after getting stuck in the snow. It was reported between 20 and 30 machines were left overnight after they had skidded into ditches or suffered minor damage through skidding.

The week-end was remarkably free from accidents and none of a serious nature in which there were personal injuries was reported to police.

Victoria and the lower Vancouver Island area shared honors with the Kamloops and Kootenay areas for the heaviest fall of snow during Saturday and Sunday.

The Meteorological Observatory at Gonzales reported a total fall of eight and a half inches here.

Defence Chief Aiding Mayhew

Hon. Ian Mackenzie to Speak at Royal Victoria Theatre Thursday Night

HON. IAN MACKENZIE

Hon. Ian Mackenzie, M.A., LL.B., K.C., Minister of National Defence, will join hands with leaders of the provincial government in support of R. W. Mayhew, Liberal candidate in the forthcoming federal by-election at a great rally in the Royal Victoria Theatre on Thursday evening, starting at 8.

Premier Pattullo will support the federal minister, and Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, who headed the poll in Victoria in the recent provincial election, will take the chair.

As British Columbia's member of the cabinet, Mr. Mackenzie has worked during the last two years for the increase of national defences on this coast, particularly in the neighborhood of Victoria.

Many men have been given work in the last year adding to the defences, mostly at Esquimalt. There, in the dockyard and barracks, new buildings have been constructed, the old drydock has been remodeled as a dock, new powder magazines have been built on the western shore of the harbor and much land expropriated.

Surveys are now being made in the neighborhood of Sidney for a military airport. Work on two minesweepers will start shortly. One will be built at Esquimalt and the other at Vancouver. Both will be stationed at Esquimalt, thus increasing the personnel and adding to the purchasing power in Victoria of the Canadian navy.

The latest work undertaken is the establishment of military forts near Albert Head. Over 200 unemployed men are now at work on this project.

Mr. Mackenzie will inspect most of this work when he comes to Vancouver Island this week.

Survivors Tell Of Sinking Of Ship

Seven Men of Ss. Tzenmy Chandris Lost Off Hatteras; Knife-SOS Report

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Fifteen disheveled survivors of the sinking Saturday of the Greek freighter Tzenmy Chandris east of Cape Hatteras, arrived here today aboard the U.S. coastguard cutter Mendota and, through interpreters, told their graphic story of men against the sea.

The captain of the crew of 28, seven of whom lost their lives, bore a bright red rash across the bridge of his nose to witness his story of how one seaman on the raft with him had gone mad in the harrowing hours before the rescue and bitten his captain in the face before he died.

An English seaman said he felt the heavily laden freighter give two lurches and "walked off the deck into the water." He couldn't swim, but grabbed a piece of timber and kept afloat, fighting off sharks that nipped his ankles.

"I was the last to leave the ship and the last to be picked up," said Joseph Corrie, 49, White Hibern, England.

TREATED AT HOSPITAL

The captain, George Coufopandella, and the other 14 survivors picked up by the cutter, were taken to the Marine Hospital for treatment for exposure soon after the Mendota had

DUKE TO VISIT PARIS CHURCH

Ex-King and Duchess Will Attend Charity Sale at Christ Church, Neuilly

PARIS (CP)—Christ Church will have the Duke and Duchess of Windsor preside at a charity sale to be held in the suburb of Neuilly November 20.

It was announced Sunday: "The Duke and Duchess of Windsor have most graciously promised to be present. Gratitude is felt that the engagements of His Royal Highness make it possible to help by his presence the work of the church, and the Duchess has kindly consented, at the chaplain's invitation, to open the sale."

The honor of opening the sale is traditionally reserved for the most important of the guests, who usually include all of the British colony. The foundation stone for the church was laid May 5, 1876, by King Edward VII and Queen Alexandra when they were Prince and Princess of Wales.

Dominion Reports Revenue Rising

Returns From Customs Excise and Income Higher; Exports Are Increasing

OTTAWA (CP)—Federal revenue from customs and excise and income taxes increased in the first seven months of the fiscal year, it was shown today by the Department of National Revenue. Exports of Canadian products also were on the increase.

In the seven months ended October 31, exports of Canadian products totaled $670,037,800, compared with $596,776,021 in the same period in 1936.

Customs duties collected totaled $56,852,805, an increase of $10,149,253. Excise taxes jumped $21,674,268, to $101,590,323. Excise duties were up $4,423,331 at $32,107,597.

The income tax returned $99,202,556, an increase of $15,129,957.

Newsprint was Canada's number-one export, with a value of $75,721,383, compared with $69,960,708 a year ago. In second place was wheat at $73,153,200, compared with $139,715,451 a year ago. Copper was third at $34,870,742, an increase of $13,129,199. Nickel was fourth at $33,830,239, an increase of $10,157,712.

Other exports were: Planks and boards $28,915,012, wood pulp $25,831,738, meats $24,491,527, automobiles $16,699,462.

orders and serious losses to international commerce.

"They have provoked among all peoples a feeling of horror and indignation, and in the whole world a feeling of uncertainty and apprehension."

"The problem does not appear simply under the aspect of relations between the two states of the Far East but as a question of security and world peace."

"The Japanese government affirmed that in using armed force in China it is animated by the desire to modify the policies of the Chinese government."

"The delegates in session at Brussels consider it their duty to remark that there exists no principle of law authorizing the intervention of the armed force of one country into the domestic affairs of another country, and that the general acceptance of such a thesis would inevitably lead to continual conflicts."

CHINA IN DISCUSSIONS

"The Japanese government affirms that it is China's action which is in contradiction with the Nine-Power Treaty. But China is engaged in a frank and full discussion with the signatories of the treaty while Japan refuses to discuss it with anyone."

"The Chinese authorities have declared on various occasions that they do not wish, and actually are unable, to negotiate a friendly settlement with Japan alone."

"Under these circumstances, there are no reasons to believe that Japan and China, left to themselves, would arrive in the near future at any solution which would allow hope of re-establishing peace between the two countries."

"On the contrary, there is every reason to believe that if the matter is allowed to remain entirely in the hands of Japan and China, the armed conflict . . . will continue indefinitely."

"The Japanese government in its last communication invited the countries represented at Brussels to make a contribution to the stabilization of the Far East in conformity with the real situation. The delegates are of the opinion that the essential realities of the situation are those to which they have drawn attention above."

SMALL GROUP PLAN

"The delegates . . . in their communication to the Japanese government, invited it to confer with them or with the representatives of a limited number of states, in the hope that such an exchange of views would lead to the use of their good offices and thus aid negotiations for a satisfactory solution."

"They are of the opinion that if the parties to the conflict would agree on a cessation of hostilities with a view to creating an occasion to try such a procedure, it would end in success."

"The Chinese delegation has declared itself ready to adhere to this suggestion. . . ."

"While hoping that Japan will not maintain its negative attitude, the delegates will have to examine what ought to be their common attitude in a situation where one signatory to an international treaty maintains in opposition to the views of all others—that the action which it is undertaking lies outside the application of the treaty."

KEY IN STATEMENT

Asked later tonight what the conference would do at next Monday's session, Belgian-Foreign Minister Paul Spaak said the clue was to be found in the last paragraph of the declaration.

The conference was called under the Nine-Power Treaty, which pledges respect for the territorial integrity of China, in an effort to mediate the Japanese-Chinese conflict.

Denmark, Norway and Sweden abstained from today's vote. Their delegates expressed agreement in principle with the terms of the declaration but regretted that conciliation had failed; therefore, they could not vote on the summary.

JAPANESE DISCUSSION
TOKIO, (CP-Havas).—Japan is prepared to accept any mediation in the Sino-Japanese conflict which would lead China to abandon her resistance, and is willing to negotiate with Gen. Chiang Kai-shek if he changes his attitude, a Japanese army spokesman told Havas.

This statement followed reports two peace programmes—one based on Chinese adherence to the Anti-Communist pact, the other offering Nanking a share in Japanese economic expansion—were under consideration here.

SINGLE POWER PLAN

LONDON, (CP-Havas).—Mediation by a single European power to end the Sino-Japanese conflict success would not be begrudged by powers represented at the Brussels Nine-Power Treaty Conference, The London Times declared today.

(Mediation by Germany has been suggested at various times). "Anything that such mediation (by a single power) could achieve for the termination of the fighting," The Times said, "would deserve a general welcome."

"Everyone knows the Japanese army is immeasurably better trained and equipped than the Chinese. Victories won under such conditions will not compensate for the general distrust and disfavor whereunto the policy of ruthlessness and their contempt for public opinion of most other nations has brought them."

"Not even Japan's associates in the Anti-Communist pact (Germany and Italy) can feel particularly enthusiastic at the prospect of further weakening their Asiatic partner or of any further diminution of the political stability and commercial prosperity in China."

for a more effective method of checking the growing concentration of economic control and the resultant monopolistic practices which persist today, in spite of anti-trust statutes. A further search for additional methods to meet this threat to free competitive enterprise is called for at this time."

Mr. Roosevelt did not ask action on tax revision at the special session, a course advocated by many members of his party. He noted the question was receiving study by the treasury and congressional committees.

BALANCING OF BUDGET

Again he reiterated he expected the next budget "can be brought within a definite balance," and directed special attention to business conditions.

"Since our adjournment in August there has been a marked recession in industrial production and industrial purchases following a fairly steady advance for more than four years," he said.

"The present decline has not reached serious proportions, but it has the effect of decreasing the national income—and that is a matter of definite concern."

"If the people are as willing as the government to use the economic knowledge gained in recent years," he said, "this recession need go no farther."

"With the exercise of ordinary prudence, there is no reason why we should suffer any prolonged recession, let alone any general economic paralysis."

USE OF CAPITAL

He stated the fundamental situation was not to be compared with 1929 and said the obvious immediate task was increased use of private capital to create employment.

On the four points of his immediate programme he listed:

1. "An all-weather" surplus crop control plan aimed at "abundance without waste" and backed by new taxes, should the cost exceed the regular budget.

2. "Flexible" machinery to provide minimum wages, maximum

For Russians

EDMONTON, (CP)—All-metal skis were being fitted today to the big Lockheed monoplane that will carry Sir Hubert Wilkins and his aerial search party into the Arctic in search of the six Russian airmen lost since August 13 on a trans-Polar flight.

Change of the landing gear was expected to be completed early tomorrow, when a short flight over the airport is planned to test the $10,000 skis.

A heavy snowfall over the week-end solved the problem of a take-off from the Edmonton airport, but lack of thick ice on northern lakes and rivers delayed departure on the 1,750-mile flight northwest to Akavik, N.W.T.

Sir Hubert said ice a foot thick was needed for safe landing of the heavy monoplane and the route to Akavik would depend on ice and weather conditions.

Trouble in the wireless equipment discovered during the 350-mile flight to Edmonton Saturday from Regina had been eliminated and further tests were being made today.

hours and banishment of child labor.

3. Reorganization of government in the interest of "efficiency," but with a warning against trying to make "major savings" in this way.

4. Regional planning boards to "avoid waste and to give the nation its money's worth" from government expenditures.

"What these four subjects promise is continued and increased purchasing power—that they promise is greater efficiency in the use of government funds," Mr. Roosevelt said, "and intelligent foundations for the other plans for the encouragement of industrial expansion with government help."

"If private enterprise does not respond, government must take up the slack."

UNEMPLOYMENT CENSUS

Sunday night President Roosevelt appealed to citizens of the United States for wholehearted co-operation in a "complete, honest and accurate" census of the unemployed this week.

In an address broadcast from the White House, the President said the huge task to be inaugurated Tuesday was necessary to furnish facts on which the administration hoped to base a sound, long-range programme of re-employment.

Unemployment, he observed, had delayed the balancing of the national budget.

Asserting unemployment relief was "of course, not the permanent cure," Mr. Roosevelt said: "The permanent cure lies in finding suitable jobs in industry and agriculture for all willing workers. It involves co-operative effort and planning which will lead to the absorption of this unused man-power in private industry."

THROUGH MAILS

While the President spoke, Census Administrator John D. Biggers was making final preparations for distribution through the postal service of more than $6,000,000 census forms which will go to every adult in the United States Tuesday.

Those wholly without work or only partly employed are asked to fill out the questionnaires and return them, postage free, to the government.

From the answers, which must be in by midnight, November 20, the administration hopes to determine the number of unemployed and those who work only part time; their age groups and geographical locations and the type of work for which they are best suited.

Right Rev. B. S. B. Batty, the bishop who controls the Church of England's continental churches, said, however, the charity sale invitation "was not officially inspired, nor was Canon Dart's attitude, which represented publication of a private conversation."

The statement of Canon J. C. L. Dart of St. George's Church in Paris that the Duke of Windsor would not be welcome at an Armistice Day service led the Duke to stay away from the observance Thursday.

"As for Canon Dart, I am satisfied he did not intend any public discourtesy towards the Duke," the bishop said.

Ottawa

DR. J. H. CRAIGIE

OTTAWA—Award of the first medal granted for meritorious work in the general interest of the public by the Professional Institute of the Civil Service of Canada was made to Dr. John Hubert Craigie at the annual luncheon of the institute at the Chateau Laurier here today. The presentation was made by President J. C. Beauchamp. Dr. Craigie is the first recipient of the new medal, the winning of which is open to competition both by federal and provincial civil servants. The award this year was made to Dr. Craigie "in recognition of work done by him and by those associated with him in the rust research laboratory at Winnipeg," which was established in 1925.

President Beauchamp, presenting the medal today, said: "All forces were marshaled together in a concerted drive against what is perhaps the grain-growers' worst enemy, rust spores which propagate at the rate of billions in a single month. That enemy has been vanquished decisively, we believe. And we find Dr. John Hubert Craigie, director of the laboratory since 1928, standing in the vanguard of the spirited little army that rested not until it conquered."

docked. All were suffering from parched and swollen throats, but whether any was seriously ill could not be learned immediately.

Commander Henry Coyle of the Mendota said the rescue was "extremely difficult," as a heavy swell made it almost impossible to see the seamen floating on small pieces of wreckage.

SOS DECLARED LATE

Konstantinos Balasus, third engineer of the Tzeny Chandris, told Gus Maroullis, interpreter, he believed all the crew could have been saved had an SOS been sounded five hours earlier.

Balasus charged the distress signal was not sent until he stood over the radio operator with a drawn knife and threatened to kill him unless he sent the signal immediately.

Balasus also declared the ship, a craft of 5,815 tons, was taking water "somewhere" in the hold since shortly after the vessel had left Morehead City, N.C., for Rotterdam, Holland, and the pumps were not capable of handling the inflow.

LISTED BEFORE SOS

Alexander Dacoglu, second mate, declared the vessel started listing some time before the SOS was sent. Several ships passed nearby a short time before the Tzeny Chandris sank, he told Ernest Gretes, another interpreter.

ter, but were unaware of the freighter's trouble.

Commander Coyle said he was told the radio operator and another member of the crew had jumped from the stricken ship without life preservers and drowned. A third was pulled through a lifebelt by a shark. A fourth, the one who went mad and bit the captain, died on the raft and the body was washed into the sea.

Joseph Corrie said: "I went over with a lifebelt and then picked up a lifebuoy as it floated by. The ship took me down with her and I heard her gurgling going down. I couldn't swim, but grabbed a piece of timber and held on. Sharks cut at my ankle and I grabbed a stick and tried to scare them away."

"A seaplane finally spotted me and dropped a smoke bomb. It was some time before I was picked up. I am pretty sore, but feel pretty strong."

Corrie said the vessel was heavily laden with scrap iron when she put out from Morehead City, N.C., and ran into heavy seas soon after leaving port. When she shipped water, then suddenly listed, he waited until she took two lurches and "stepped off into the water."

DRIFTED 32 HOURS

The captain said he had drifted on the raft with several others for 32 hours before rescue.

Commander Coyle said "every man was accounted for" of the 28 aboard the vessel when she foundered. The boatswain, Frangolas Kiladitis, died aboard the Mendota after being rescued. The Mendota brought in three other bodies and three still were missing.

Six of the crew were saved from a waterlogged lifeboat by the Mallory tanker Swiftsure five hours after the freighter had sunk before dawn Saturday.

The men abandoned ship only after they had waded a losing battle in the darkness trying to pump their vessel clear of the invading seas and had sent SOS messages crackling forth to be received by the Swiftsure, the coastguard and other agencies.

MANY SHARKS

Alexander Dacoglu, second mate of the Greek ship, said one man on the raft with him lost his hold and slipped into the sea two hours before the coastguard cutter appeared.

"Sharks were popping around most of the time," he said. Dacoglu spoke through a Greek interpreter, as did the captain. Members of the Mendota's crew said O. Mevov, ship's cook, was found floating with $80 strapped to his leg.

Commander Coyle said "I never saw anything like this disaster before. Four or five of the men are in pretty bad shape."

He said none of the seamen had been found in lifeboats, but three boats were found capsized near some of the drifting sailors. Most of these were picked up in groups of three or four, he said, over an area of four square miles. Some had managed to pull three or four boards together to make a sort of raft.

Members of the freighter's crew, said the lifeboats either were swept away or made useless by the sharp listing of the ship.

Motor Workers To Vote on Plan

DETROIT (AP)—A tentative agreement on revision of the United Automobile Workers of America contract with General Motors locals was reported here today, but there were growing reports the locals might reject it.

Officials of both the corporation and the U.A.W. declined to discuss the agreement, but in circles close to the union it was said a union demand of a 10-cent-an-hour wage increase and exclusive bargaining rights had been refused by the corporation.

Present bargaining power rights cover only the U.A.W. membership.

Horner Martin, U.A.W. president, was understood to be hopeful new negotiations might be started at once in such an event.

Eastern Canada Swept By Gales

Property Losses in Quebec City; Nova Scotia Schooner Ashore

TORONTO (CP)—Fifty-mile-an-hour gales swept Quebec and the Nova Scotia coast Sunday while winter tightened its grip over western Canada, sending snow to Manitoba and British Columbia. Sub-freezing temperatures were the rule throughout the prairies while Ontario's average was a comparatively balmy 40 for the week-end.

Widespread damage was done in Quebec City and district, trees being uprooted and a hockey arena unroofed. Breakwaters and waterfront properties, mackerel nets and buildings were damaged through Nova Scotia.

The three-masted Halifax schooner Henry H. Chamberlain was driven ashore at White Point, N.S., and Capt. E. O. Fudge and his crew of five rescued by a fishing boat. Fanned by the gale, fire destroyed five houses in Halifax, causing $12,000 damage and leaving 28 homeless.

Automobiles ploughed through 12 inches of snow in west-central Manitoba, the storm extending from Portage la Prairie westward for 80 miles.

Calgary recorded near-zero weather overnight, while Edmonton reported 1.6 inches of snow in 24 hours, bringing a five-day total of 5.25 inches. Regina and Saskatoon, however, escaped the storm.

Indians in the southwest used to build walls with oval, loaf-shaped adobe bricks, until Spaniards taught them to make square-edged bricks, which required less mortar work.

Four Die In Shooting Affray

STURGIS, Sask. (CP)—Mrs. Robert Paterson returned to her farm home, five miles southwest of Sturgis, Saturday evening, to find her oldest child shot to death and her other two children and 41-year-old husband dying of bullet wounds.

"You just came home in time," Paterson gasped to his wife. "I was the one who did it. They are better off like that."

Gwendolyn, 10, lay dead across her father's knee. Geraldine, seven, died soon after. Angus, nine, and the father died Sunday in the hospital at nearby Canora, 175 miles east of Saskatoon.

Mrs. Paterson could give police no motive for the slaying. Paterson was in good health and good spirits, she said, when she left home at noon Saturday to visit with several other women.

Arriving home, she urged the sister-in-law to remain for a cup of tea, but the latter was anxious to return to her own home on an adjacent farm and drove away.

After a few minutes, Mrs. Robert Paterson investigated a light burning in the basement. There she discovered the tragedy. After carrying the three children to a bedroom she called a brother-in-law neighbor, James.

Police and a doctor were called. Dr. Neil, the coroner, ordered an inquest, which was adjourned after a jury had viewed the bodies.

Silk and wool, which are animal fibres, scorch easily.

Two Children Killed on Road

ROCANVILLE, Sask. (CP)—Two children were killed and a man seriously injured when a truck, carrying 15 young people home from service at a Roman Catholic Church, overturned in a ditch near here Sunday.

Those killed were Therese Gagnon, 10, and Charles Fex, 13. They were thrown clear of the truck, but were pinned under when it fell on them.

Charles Chertier of Lazare, Man., received a compound fracture of one leg. Several others received minor injuries.

The truck upset when the driver, Paul Gagnon, steered it too far off the track beaten in the snow as he was attempting to pass another car.

Rocanville is about 100 miles east of Regina.

Steel Output In U.S. Falls

CLEVELAND, O. (AP)—In the face of light buying, the magazine Steel's production index for the United States declined eight points last week to 39 per cent of capacity, the publication says.

This was the lowest rate since July, 1935, as "consumers seem intent on reducing steel inventories and keeping them at a low point."

"Outlets usually taking a steady flow of tonnage are buying almost nothing, such as the automotive and railroad equipment builders," says the magazine. "Although some small business is appearing in the latter field and the former is relied on to increase its requirements before the end of the year."

Government experiments indicate that clothes moths are not disturbed by air scented with cedar, dried lavender, tobacco, tar, pine oil, cedar oil, or camphor.

MEIGHEN FOR IMMIGRATION

Senator Advises Canada to Lower Barriers as Safety Move

CLEVELAND, O. (AP)—Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen former Prime Minister of Canada, believes "the barriers of immigration must be lowered" for the sake of world peace.

"This applies even more to our country than to yours," the 63-year-old Conservative senator said in an address here Saturday.

"We people in possession of the world's richest and widest territories with a comparatively thin population, can hardly expect the world to remain at peace if we stand on our own shores and forbid all others to come."

"There is a lot to be said from our own immediate standpoint for this policy," Senator Meighen said, "but I don't believe it can be continued compatible with our expectations of peace."

Mr. Meighen said "the peace of the world is precarious. There is no peace in Asia. China is undergoing agonies of merciless invasion—China is being done to death. There is war in Spain."

He opposed giving Germany back colonies taken at the end of the World War, declaring they were "essential" to the British Empire's security, "especially since Britain now is no longer in the sense that she was, the 'Mistress of the Seas.'"

Olympic Swimmer Seeking Divorce

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—In an "all so simple" matrimonial deal Eleanor Holm Jarrett of the swim tanks and Billy Rose, self-styled "master showman," offered yesterday to swap two divorces for one wedding.

"As soon as our respective mates and the divorce laws allow it Eleanor's future will be devoted exclusively to being Mrs. Rose and learning how to make good coffee," Rose said as he paused in Cheyenne en route to San Francisco with the smiling swimmer who popped her way out of the Olympic Games last year with champagne corks.

"It's all so simple," chimed in Eleanor, wife of crooner Art Jarrett, now in Hollywood.

Rose is the husband of comedienne Fanny Brice, who said at Beverly Hills, Calif., she knew nothing of his plans.

Down To Fundamentals

MR. R. W. MAYHEW, THE LIBERAL candidate in the federal election to be held November 29, in his opening speech of the campaign, gave proof both of his intimate knowledge of Canadian affairs and of his sincerity of purpose.

As an employer of labor who has pursued a progressive policy from the small beginnings of his own business to its successful development as an important undertaking in the economic life of this community, Mr. Mayhew was able to discuss, from personal experience, factors closely associated with the welfare of Victoria and district as well as of the Dominion generally. He referred to the existence in this new country of Canada of slums and the necessity for their replacement by better conditions for the country's working population. Mr. Mayhew sees in Mr. Mackenzie King's proposal for national unemployment insurance a practical beginning in this direction.

To some people, housing conditions, the contentment of Canadian workers, unemployment, and foreign trade may not appear to be sufficiently closely related to require their consideration as a joint issue of this by-election contest. Mr. Mayhew was on sound ground when he proved to his audience how tightly they are interlocked and how necessary it is to deal with them as Canada's most vital problem of the day.

Employment, the improvement of the lot of the workers of Canada, and the amelioration of social conditions generally depend upon the state of the country's business with the rest of the world—our imports and exports. Seven years ago, the last year of the King government, the idle workers of the Dominion numbered less than 200,000. Our empire and foreign sales and purchases at that time were worth $2,600,000,000. Three years later, three years under Bennett rule and Bennett tariff boosting, that trade had dropped in value to less than $900,000,000—the pre-war level, when our population was less than 8,000,000 people. Happily, 1935 saw the defeat of the Conservative administration of Mr. Bennett and the instruction of the Canadian people to Mr. King to take up the job again and repair the damage.

Mr. King took to the House of Commons a majority following greater than any since Confederation and the government under his leadership immediately set about removing some of the tariff barriers erected by Mr. Bennett in his boast that he could "blast" his way into the markets of the world and end unemployment "or perish in the attempt." In two years of Liberal rule the value of the external trade of the country has grown to within nodding distance of the $2,000,000,000 mark, and unemployment has been decreasing from month to month. As the development of Liberal tariff policies are continued by the removal of other barriers which hinder the inflow and outflow of commodities, so will it be possible to improve the lot of the Canadian worker in the various ways that Mr. Mayhew quite properly advocates.

An Inadvisable Increase

BRITISH COLUMBIANS WILL BE united behind motor dealers in their opposition to the increase in freight rates on motor cars from eastern Canada to the coast. The former rate, motor dealers report, was approximately $120 per car from any Ontario point to Vancouver. The new rate, based on poundage of $4.90 per 100 pounds, figured on an average over all cars, means an increase of $48 per car, or $500,000 a year more British Columbians buying automobiles will have to pay.

The high price British Columbia pays for dealing with factories of eastern Canada has been the subject of considerable discussion in the B.C. Legislature. Striking figures were presented by Byron Johnson, when he represented Victoria, to show that B.C. contributed far more to eastern Canadian enterprises than it received in reciprocal trade. To prices already higher than the eastern Canadian enjoys, a further addition has now been made. The Board of Railway Commissioners, members of Parliament and business organizations throughout the country are being circled in the matter and dealers point out the increase in freight rates affects every customer as no part of it can be absorbed by the manufacturer or dealer. Add this amount to the normal increase that cars will have to bear, due to higher costs of labor and material and it can be seen a less promising picture is presented to the British Columbia public.

Another feature, too, that must be considered in this connection is the proximity of the coast cities to the United States automobile markets. While British Columbians may be loyal to the Canadian factories, rising costs of automobiles or any other commodities may strain their loyalty overmuch and send many of them shopping across the line with every prospect of a satisfactory purchase in spite of customs and freight charges.

Trade Trend

AS DISCUSSIONS PROCEED IN THE British House of Commons on Anglo-American trade relations and the possible effect of the proposed trade treaty with the United States on the Dominions, the value of the United States market to Canada looms in the foreground as an important asset to be jealously guarded.

While Canada has always been a willing supporter of the cause of Empire trade, its geographical position makes trade friendship with its neighboring country a matter of supreme importance and one that places it in a position different to that of other parts of the British Empire.

Some recent figures of Canadian trade may emphasize the point. In September our trade showed an expansion of $22,891,000 in comparison with September, 1936, the total being $165,456,613. The increase in trade with the United States was particularly noteworthy, advancing to $36,512,537 from $65,442,553. In the same period trade with the United Kingdom declined to $45,978,495 from $48,127,307. For the 12 months' period, trade with the United States showed the greatest expansion, increasing to $970,291,072 from $735,569,064. Trade with the United Kingdom during that time amounted to $561,800,257, an increase of approximately $60,000,000.

De Valera's Difficulties

DOCTRINAIRE EAMON DE VALERA, President of the Irish Free State, apparently is encountering more trouble than he expected when he went to the elections for endorsement last July, coupled with the submission of a brand new constitution—a Magna Charta that ultimately would sever the tie with Britain, pave the way to a united Ireland, and recreate the Emerald Isle as a full-fledged republic.

The De Valera government holds office at the pleasure of Labor and Independent factions whose support in highly controversial debates is problematical. A few defections would mean the defeat of the administration. Not only is there a decided stalemate in the Dail; the vote for the new constitution was so evenly divided that it could hardly be considered an enthusiastic mandate. Five hundred and fourteen thousand votes were in favor of it and 504,000 were cast against it.

As for Mr. de Valera's dream of a united Ireland, adrift from the British connection, he has not the least foundation upon which to rest his hope for its realization. The six northern counties, as Premier Viscount Craigavon has repeatedly declared in the most unequivocal terms, will have nothing to do with republican ideas.

Medieval "Progress"

AN INTERESTING SIDELIGHT ON THE state of modern civilization is provided in a current bulletin published by a building trades employers' association.

Discussing structural design for large city buildings, this bulletin remarks that architects henceforth must take into account the chance that their buildings will be subjected to airplane bombings. New buildings must have stronger roofs—both as a defence against bombs, and to serve as mounts for anti-aircraft guns in case of need.

The association is undoubtedly correct in saying that this is a factor no architect can afford to ignore in the future, but what a commentary on the way in which modern civilization fails to provide ordinary peaceful security! We seem to be back in the middle ages for defence as well as for shelter. It is a profoundly dismaying thought.

DOMINION CREDIT GOOD

From Winnipeg Free Press.

A surplus of $33,372,000 for the first seven months of the fiscal year is reported from Ottawa. The financial position of the government is more favorable than was anticipated at the time of the last budget, and good reports that have been coming from the treasury department no doubt had something to do with the reception given the Dominion $100,000,000 refunding loan a few days ago. It was quickly taken up and largely over-subscribed. Not only had the statements of revenue and expenditure indicated the possibility of the budget being balanced this year, but the Finance Minister, in meeting the maturities of $122,799,000, was refunding only $100,000,000 and was paying off the balance, a fairly good chunk.

Mr. Dunning has reason to be well satisfied with the refunding operation. The treasury will also benefit from the fact that the new bonds will be subjected to the income tax, the old bonds having been exempt.

ANTHROPOLOGIST

THE MOST eminent anthropologist of America—so eminent that his name escapes me—has just written a book to prove that the intelligence of the average man has not improved in the least since the last Ice Age. In fact, our modern Democracy, he says, is making the world safe only for morons, while Fascism is making it unsafe for anyone else.

This is particularly cheering at the moment, when, as I write this, the wind is whooping down from the north and we seem to be entering still another Ice Age. Most people will deny the professor's theories. No civilized man can possibly believe that he isn't more intelligent than the ice man. He imagines, because he can drive about in an automobile or get killed in an airplane that he must be far more intelligent than an ice man who could only get killed with a club.

Indeed, the complacent assumption of this age is that we are far more intelligent even than the Victorians and that we are getting more intelligent every moment. It is rather a shock to be told that we are still on a par with the ice man.

But the professor is probably right. The more we master machinery, the more we drive about in automobiles and press buttons and depend on gadgets, the less intelligent we become. The ice man knew how to look after himself in a much more difficult world than this. He could build a fire without matches, kill his own meat without a gun and catch his own fish without a Hardy rod. Turn a civilized man loose in the jungle and see what would happen to him. Even boy scouts can't make fire without matches these days.

Your modern man is utterly dependent on the intelligence of someone else. If a few experts were extinguished today there would not be an automobile or airplane operating in a week, all science would perish and the race would die of some epidemic. If he couldn't push a button and control gigantic natural forces by means which he doesn't in the least understand, the average man would quickly perish, because he isn't intelligent enough to live, except with the support of a few men of genius.

Thus, as the gadgets and the buttons increase and the power under a man's hand increases, the more dependent on them he becomes, the less he needs to think for himself, the less intelligent he grows. The more intelligent the civilization, the less intelligent the atoms composing it. And as the civilization built by a few men of genius requires more and more intelligence to make it work, the results of the process are becoming quite clear. Look at the state of civilization today and then try to deny the professor's theory. Soon, especially if this north wind continues, we shall all be ice men again.

POOR CITY FOLKS

WHENEVER I find myself becoming discontented with things in this part of the world I read a New York paper and find out how people live in a truly civilized state. That is always enough to cheer me up.

For example, in last Sunday's New York Times I find an advertisement which tells the civilized people of New York about a wonderful bargain. They can get good barnyard stuff, delivered to their penthouse gardens, for only $1 for a 100-pound sack. "This is at the rate of $40 a wagonload." (And George Paddy gave me two tons this year for the privilege of cutting a few square yards of my hay.)

The advertisement also promises good soil at only 75 cents for 100 pounds. (At this rate, my pile of choice leaf mould would be worth about $30,000, as nearly as I can calculate. A mine more valuable than half the gold mines of British Columbia.)

When I realize what the cost of living is down there in New York, I certainly feel sorry for the poor natives. You should be grateful that the necessities of life are so easy to get here.

WORKING MEN

THE OTHER DAY I happened to attend a convention of my fellow working men, though only as an observer. They had met here to draft a piece of legislation for the consideration of the government. To one who has listened for long and weary years to parliaments, provincial, federal and even Imperial, it was interesting to see how the working people conduct their affairs. On the whole, I thought the speaking of the proletariat was more competent, and contained better English than that customary in the Legislature, but not as florid and slick as the House of Commons.

Your trained working man in his union has a better command of the language than your average provincial politician, and certainly is a better debater. Perhaps this is because he has a personal interest in the subject. It is his bread and butter. Whereas in a legislature the business concerns someone else's bread and butter. This always makes a difference.

WHAT PRICE WAR?

From London Daily Express
Mussolini has not paid for Abyssinia yet, orders a 10 per cent capital levy—to meet the bill. That surprises those good people here who think that Italy is so strong, and also those who think that Mussolini is the heaven-sent defender of private property. It does not surprise those who know that the opposite is true. The Abyssinian annexation cost Italy not less than £150,000,000. The total trade of Abyssinia is worth about £2,000,000. If Italy collars the whole lot it can only yield her less than one-quarter of the cost of the war debt charges. Is that good business?

Rome Challenging London For Control Of Arab World

LONDON.

BEHIND a calm facade, with only hints of the big trouble trickling through to the public in the form of vague rumors from the continental press, concern over Palestine, Egypt, Iraq and the Hedjaz has been mounting at the Colonial Office with repercussions on cabinet views of the whole Mediterranean position.

Most immediate and concrete of the Colonial Office's fears, according to The Week, is based on the conviction—stated to be based on "unimpeachable information"—that Mussolini really is about to denounce the Palestine Mandate, and at a stroke throw British positions in the eastern Mediterranean into as uneasy a mess as they are already in in the west, and that immediately after that Ibn Saud will by arrangement with Rome—claim himself king of all the Arabs, thus starting a fire that will blaze from Bagdad to Casablanca.

According to reports received in the last couple of days at the Colonial Office, the obviously Rome-inspired account appearing in the Paris Jour of what was discussed between Mussolini and Ribbentrop in Rome, was not, as some thought, a kite to try the wind, but a notice of action decided upon.

THE DEVASTATINGLY explosive effect of such action on the British position in the Near East, and the reasons why the Colonial Office is living through some of the most nervous moments in its history are simple and alarming.

First of all, things in Iraq are not working out at all the way that was expected, or at least hoped, when last August British agents arranged for the taking-off of Sidki, chief of staff and virtual dictator of Iraq, on the ground of his Italian sympathies, as particularly evidenced in the Iraq note to the League on the subject of the Palestine Mandate, which note had all too evidently been written in Rome. Despite military revolt, the Midfa cabinet was hoisted into office by the British, and expected to do its duty by the British Colonial Office.

As things have turned out, however, it is only too plain that the murder of Sidki has really accomplished less than nothing; the army remains entirely under Italian influence, and hence, despite the auspices under which the cabinet was formed, the cabinet itself.

CONQUERING KINGS

IN THE Hedjaz, things look no brighter. To the general public Ibn Saud, if he is thought of at all, still appears vaguely in the role of a reasonably reliable assistant to the British in the Near East.

For weeks now, however, the Colonial Office and the Foreign Office have been receiving reports of which the sum total tops up to the unmistakable conclusion that today it is to Rome rather than to London that Ibn Saud looks for that glorious future as King of All the Arabs which under British tutelage has remained a dream, but for which some business-like looking blueprints are available in the Palazzo Chigi.

Things are at the stage where negotiations are at this moment in progress between Rome and the Hedjaz regarding the amount of assistance the king might get from Rome in the event of serious trouble breaking out. Negotiations have moved from the discussion of general principles to the discussion of the availability of light machine guns.

By GEORGE ROSS

NEW YORK.

WHAT Broadway has been waiting for these many languid moons, has happened: George M. Cohan has come to us as President Franklin Delano Roosevelt in the boldest public satire of the century, "I'd Rather Be Right," written by those Katzenjammer kids of drama, the Messrs. Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman.

And Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne have started kicking up a half-celestial, half-earthly rumpus in "Amphitryon 38," the comedy Aeschylus, that facile Greek, invented the first bedroom farce on record.

The respective premieres of both "colossal" occasions were events that will linger long within active memories. That moment which grew into minutes of applause when Mr. Cohan made his entrance in "I'd Rather Be Right" will not be forgotten quickly among the theatre's first-night parishioners. That prolonged reluctance of the audience at the Lunts' show to leave the theatre until the stars attempted a curtain speech almost grew into an all-night sit-down strike. And that, too, will be remembered when this season will be read about in books.

$200 FOR TWO TICKETS

APPROPOS of Manhattan's sudden revival of spirit, there seems to be a spendthrift crowd around here. Those who bleated about depleted budgets are shekelling out plenty for entertainment. And not since those halcyon days before the '29 holocaust, has the market risen so high on first night duets. Those gala evenings when the late Flo Ziegfeld nonchalantly charged $75 for gold-engraved tickets to his "Follies," had their counterpart the other night with the premiere of "I'd Rather Be Right," wherein George M. Cohan impersonates the President.

Not that it was the fault of the producer, Sam H. Harris. He plainly marked his duets $5.50 for the first showing of this musical extravaganza. But an efficient public thought differently. So well-touted was this show before it descended upon the town that seats became scarcer than the proverbial hen's teeth.

And when the demand exceeded the supply, the non-official prices skyrocketed. A fellow advertised in the paper that he would pay $150 for a pair to this auspicious opening. And brokers without conscience asked $200 for a pair before the curtain went up.

And there was an executive from Detroit who had arrived with the Auto Show, so desperate to see the initial performance of "I'd Rather Be Right" that he proposed a deal to the box office. In exchange for six reasonably located seats, he told the house treasurer, he would gladly deliver the '38 model of the car made in his factory. The cashier was tempted, for he had been planning a trade-in on his own account, but his scruples conquered all. The motor executive, alas, went back to Detroit and the deal fell through.

DOWN FROM OLYMPUS

AMPHITRYON 38, the Lunts' vehicle, is an old story. Since Aeschylus tinkered with the story, 36 other playwrights have tried their hands at the same plot, but with variations.

Then Jean Giraudoux, whom they have dubbed the "Modern Voltaire of France," sat down and wrote his own version of Aeschylus's show. He didn't want any misunderstanding nor any suits for plagiarism. So he named the script "Amphitryon 38" to indicate where he came in. Then S. N. Behrman, one of America's most distinguished playwrights, came upon Giraudoux's play in French and re-adapted it for the American stage. Which gives the play quite a checkered history.

It is, should you have forgotten your mythological lore, the tale of Jupiter, that lusty god, who takes a brief vacation from the Olympian clouds to woo a virtuous lady on earth . . . and who, to his chagrin, discerns as his suit proceeds, that even a first-rate god can be a second-rate man. So, concerned with matters both amorous and celestial, "Amphitryon 38" is a boulevard farce both classic and terrestrial and the Lunts are giving it the kind of performance that even the gods may well applaud.

ROTARY NETS $427
To the Editor:—The president and directors of the Rotary Club of Victoria take this opportunity of thanking all those who so willingly and generously gave of their time, and assisted them with goods for sale at their recent superfluity sale. Net receipts from the sale, amounting to $427, will be used only for Rotary charities, and for disbursement to deserving worthy organizations in Victoria. It is impossible (as we would like) to express our thanks personally to each and every one for assistance, as most donations of goods were anonymously given. We, therefore, ask all to accept public thanks as though personally given.
ROTARY CLUB OF VICTORIA.

INDOORS, though it may be WINTER OUT-OF-DOORS

BRING THE SUN INTO YOUR HOME WITH A HUMPHREY RADIANTFIRE

With one of these Gas Fires you can bring the summer sunshine right into your home. A Radiantfire is a welcome addition to any room, and will add greatly to its smartness. And the cost is so low—only $24.95, and this includes the installation on the first floor of any private home. We will install one in the upper part of the house—bedrooms or bathrooms—for a slight additional charge—no fireplace is needed. The down payment can be as low as 95c and the balance on easy terms. Call at our Douglas Street Store, or phone G 7121, Gas Department, and we will be glad to give you full particulars.

Gathered together by Miss Bessie Crowther for the "Gay Nineties" fashion parade, the quaint and lovely old gowns were modeled by members of the club, and Mrs. H. Hall briefly outlined the history of each. One exquisite gown had belonged to the 1862 trousseau of the oldest Chinese woman in Victoria, who is now 95, and Miss Alice Gee modeled it on Saturday.

Dr. Randall Colyer first appeared as a bride of 1860 in a gown of cream taffeta and Honiton lace, and the final tableau was a bridal party of the year 1900, the bride, Miss Mollie Cox, wearing a gown of gleaming white satin trimmed with exquisite Honiton lace. A long hand-embroidered veil with Honiton lace insertion was arranged with a garland of orange blossoms. The two bridesmaids, Miss Marianne Dobbin and Miss Lillian Parfitt, wore gowns of green grocote with pinnies, and white brocade and net, respectively.

In between these outstanding groups came a series of lovely old gowns showing the changes of fashions down through the years. Those acting as mannequins were Misses Marianne Dobbin, Margaret Woodcock, Lillian Parfitt, Kate Brown and Mollie Cox, Mrs. M. Grute, Mrs. D. Darling and Mrs. A. Longley.

Miss Kate McLaren had charge of the games table; Mrs. James A. Bland, the home-cooking stall, and Miss Morton, assisted by Miss Parsell and Misses Ruth Drummond-Hay, Jocelyn McGraw and Jean Maynard, served.

Miss Carol Menzies sang two solos, "Old-fashioned Town" and "Sweet Long Ago"; Miss Helen Riley and Mrs. M. Stewart as accompanists. Miss Mabel Cameron was the fortune-teller.

The club hopes to repeat the fashion parade next Saturday.

St. Ann's Alumnae will attend a special mass in the chapel at St. Ann's Academy on Saturday morning at 7.30, to be followed by breakfast. In the afternoon, from 3 to 5.30, a silver tea will be held in the auditorium of the academy for all former pupils of St. Ann's and friends. Miss Helen Redgrave is convener. At the tea party an advanced group in theatricals will be organized.

Weddings

JACKSON-PARKE

A wedding of interest on Vancouver Island took place at St. Alban's Church, Ashcroft, when Dorothy Cecil, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Farquharson Parke of Bonaparte Lodge, Cache Creek, was united in marriage to Mr. John Basil Jackson, son of Mrs. Charles Doering of Fairburn, Vancouver Island, and of the late John Bannatyne Jackson.

The altar and chancel had been attractively decorated with white and pink chrysanthemums, and the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. E. Bartlett, took place at 2 o'clock. The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by her father, and Mr. C. Pitts of Ashcroft acted as groomsmen.

The bride was wearing a two-piece costume of imported woolen material in soft shades of British tan, the wide crushed belt, collar and buttons made of soft champagne-colored chamois, and her hat, an imported French model of felt was designed with a narrow brim and Tyrolean crown. A slashed fold was held in place by lacing. Accessories were in brown tones and her corsage was composed of Talisman roses. A traveling coat of blue fox topped her costume.

Following the ceremony a reception for immediate relatives was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which Mr. Jackson and his bride left by motor for California. On their return they will reside at Hat Creek Ranch, Cariboo Highway.

THOMPSON-ASHTON

This afternoon at 2.15, at the home of the bride's parents, 1904 Davie Street, Rev. Dr. A. S. Imrie united in marriage Edna Ellen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ashton, and Mr. W. B. Thompson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Thompson of Seattle.

For the ceremony, the house had been arranged with autumn flowers and in the drawing-room, where the ceremony took place, the bride and groom stood under an arch of Oregon grape leaves and white chrysanthemums, while two standard baskets filled with white and yellow chrysanthemums added to the decorative note.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a silhouette dress of white satin, fashioned with simplicity. The bodice had an Elizabethan collar and self-covered buttons were arranged down the back of the bodice and the skirt. The long sleeves ended in points over the wrists. She wore a halo hat of white satin with short veil and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and Talisman roses.

Miss K. Hill, the bridesmaid, wore a frock of aqua green silk crepe and a bandeau of flowers on her head, while her bouquet was composed of pink snapdragons and pink chrysanthemums. The bridegroom was supported by Mr. Jack Dillon of Seattle.

Following the service a reception was held, when a large number of guests were welcomed by the bride's mother, Mrs. Ashton, who was gowned in blue crepe-de-chine, with hat to match, and by Mrs. Thompson of Seattle, mother of the bridegroom, who wore a navy blue dress with hat to match. They each wore corsage bouquets of pink roses and carnations.

Centering the table was a three-tier wedding cake, surrounded by tulips, with four silver vases filled with pink carnations adding to the table appointments. The bride and bridegroom will make their home in Port Townsend, Washington State. For traveling the bride donned a henna-colored dress, a rust-colored overcoat, a brown hat, and other accessories in brown.

Among the many wedding gifts received were cheques from the tenants of the Belmont Building and from the management of the building.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Thompson of Seattle, Mrs. J. R. Hall of Aberdeen, Washington; Mrs. F. Anacher of Aberdeen, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Dillon and Mr. Jack Dillon of Seattle.

To Marry Victorian

Miss Margaret Rumsey, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucas E. Rumsey of the Lodge, Mossell Drive, Aylestone, Leicester, who is engaged to Mr. W. H. Smyly, youngest son of Colonel F. P. Smyly, O.B.E., late of the South Wales Borderers, and Mrs. Smyly of 601 Transit Road, Oak Bay.

Society

Miss Kate McGregor of the B.C. Academy of Music will leave this afternoon for Seattle on a brief visit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hodges of the Empress Hotel returned to Victoria yesterday, after a month's holiday spent in California, at Del Monte and other popular resorts.

Mr. and Mrs. George N. (Rebel) Mowat, formerly Miss Estelle Victoria Rodman, have returned from their honeymoon and are resident at their new home on Tillicum Road.

The many friends of Mr. Donald Mulcahy of 1255 Balmoral Road will be glad to learn that he is making progress after undergoing an operation at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mrs. J. W. Ruggles, the Uplands, returned home yesterday afternoon from Seattle. The Misses Florence and Elizabeth Ruggles, who have also been visiting in Seattle, returned home this afternoon.

Mrs. Thomas Knight Culley of Santa Barbara who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ashburnham, Hampshire Road, since her arrival here from Honolulu, left this morning for her home in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil E. Taylor entertained a few intimate friends at an "after five" party at their home on Newport Avenue on Saturday afternoon, in celebration of their silver wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. John White, 3830 West Thirtieth Avenue, Vancouver, announced the engagement of their youngest daughter, Anne Hunter, to Mr. Harry Mercer, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mercer of Victoria. The wedding will take place on December 1, at the Canadian Memorial Church, at 8 o'clock.

A miscellaneous shower was held on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. J. Burnett, Garbally Road, in honor of Miss Netta Sneddon, a popular bride-elect. Games and music were enjoyed and the prizes were won by Mrs. J. Primrose, Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Sparks. Later a buffet supper was served from a gaily-decorated table, which was centred with a bride cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. The invited guests were Mesdames Best, Morris, Hunt, J. C. Sparks, J. Primrose, J. Martin, W. Sheddon, T. Mitchell, J. Wight, D. Burnett Sr., D. Burnett Jr., Mrs. V. Marsh, R. Sneddon, W. C. Simpson and Ah Sun, Misses Metta Sneddon, Sheila Sneddon, Catherine Sneddon and Doreen Burnett.

In honor of Miss Jessie Cox, whose wedding will take place this month, a surprise miscellaneous shower was held at her home by the Misses Irene Parker and Joan Brydges. The many lovely gifts were concealed in a prettily decorated box of mauve and black. Games were enjoyed, the prizes being won by Mrs. R. Green and Miss Millie Shingles. Later a buffet supper was served. The invited guests were: Mesdames T. Bourne, E. Jane, R. Green, F. Craze, D. Hoare, C. Tyrell, A. Worth, W. Eaton, J. Sweeney, F. Ross, C. Brydges, W. McAllister, R. Cox, W. Cox and the Misses Irene Parker, Joan Brydges, Violet Ross, Edna Bourne, Elsie Ratcliffe, Millie Shingles, Edna Fuller, Pearl, Thelma and Jessie Cox.

Mrs. A. D. Burdett, Oliver Street, held a birthday tea Saturday afternoon in honor of her daughter, Eveline. The table, attractively arranged with lace doilies, centred with a silver basket of bronze chrysanthemums and multi-colored tapers, was presided over by the Misses Judy Blades, Hilda Hall, Pat Walker and Jean Mitchell. The guests included were the Misses Judy Blades, Hilda Hall, Pat Walker, Jean Mitchell, Peggy Sedgman, Frances and Miriam Steer, Lorraine Saul, Enid Fox, Muriel Mercer, Elsie Vantreight, Virginia Todd, Marie Edwards, Lillian Le Coq, Vera Guy, Mona Dandridge, Moyra Davies, Betty Ballantyne, Marjorie Griffiths, Pauline Griffin, Alice Grey, Joan Rooney, Margaret Jones, Margaret and Grace Howroyd and Ellen Hudson.

Miss Emily Gill, a popular bride-elect, was guest of honor recently at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. W. Gill at her home on Tillicum Road. The many lovely gifts were concealed in a miniature log cabin, over which a gaily decorated umbrella was suspended. Games were played throughout the evening, prizes being won by Mrs. F. Harris and Miss Doreen Gill. Supper was served in the dining-room, the table being centred with a silver basket of pale pink chrysanthemums. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. G. McKenzie and Mrs. J. Price. The invited guests were: Mrs. F. Harris, Mr. C. Deaville, Mrs. McIlroy, Mrs. D. Taylor, Mrs. E. Haut, Mrs. Sutton, Mrs. G. McKenzie, Mrs. A. Richardson, Mrs. H. Bjorn, Mrs. V. Hughes, Mrs. J. Corbett, Mrs. W. Baxter, Mrs. F. Hogarth, Mrs. J. Price, the Misses Emily Gill, N. Nash, D. Blakeney, P. Grover, F. Donalley, V. Gill, D. Gill and E. Holdridge.

Women to Hear Mrs. Paul Smith

Mrs. Paul Smith, M.P.P., will be the principal speaker at a rally of women to be held in the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday afternoon, November 18, at 8 o'clock, in the interests of Mr. R. W. Mayhew, the Liberal candidate. Mr. Mayhew will also speak.

Mrs. Smith, who was recently re-elected for the Vancouver-Burrard constituency in the Provincial Legislature, is a fluent and interesting speaker, and her message promises to be of special interest to women. Mrs. H. P. Hodges will preside.

Junior Chapter To Hold Dance

The girls of the Royal Bride (Junior) Chapter, I.O.D.E., will stage another of their popular dances at the Crystal Garden on Friday, November 19, from 9 to 1. Bert Zala's Orchestra has been engaged, and the committee in charge have arranged for the usual novelty numbers, including a spot dance.

The members of the chapter are looking forward to having all their friends' support at this function, as the proceeds will help them to establish a bursary fund, which will enable them to assist less fortunate students to continue their scholastic careers. Tickets, which are selling well, may be obtained from the regent, Mrs. P. E. Corby, or any member of the committee.

ESQUIMALT C.Y.O.

A business meeting of the Queen of Peace Chapter C.Y.O. will be held tomorrow evening in the Parish Hall, Esquimalt Road, instead of November 23, as previously announced. A social programme will follow the meeting.

World Y.W. Official Coming

Miss S. de Dietrich To Visit Local Branch In December

Miss Suzanne de Dietrich, of the World's Committee of the Y.W.C.A. and a staff member of the World Student Christian Federation, will pay an unofficial visit here about December 12.

This announcement was made by Miss Helen Kirkwood, general secretary, at the meeting of the Y.W.C.A. board of directors Friday afternoon, with Mrs. B. S. Heisterman presiding. Two new members were welcomed to the board—Mrs. A. C. Brand and Mrs. Ross Crane.

The board unanimously voted to support and attend the series of meetings at which Dr. Nadine Kavinsky is speaking under the auspices of the Local Council of Women, and appreciation was expressed that such a course is being made available in Victoria for leaders in boys' and girls' and young people's work.

Interesting reports were read of the work done during the past month in the Y.W.C.A. annex, where the ladies had enjoyed several social evenings recently, of the indefatigable work done by the Travelers' Aid secretary, who meets all boats and trains.

Dr. Olga Jardine, convener of the household training committee, reported on the excellent progress of the girls being trained in household arts. This class is now able to undertake small catering orders, of the girls will go out to private homes to assist at teas, bridges or dinner parties. A tea will shortly be held at the Practice House, when the girls of the course will entertain board and committee members. During the afternoon, cakes and fancy breads made by the girls were on sale.

The report of the girls' work department and the residence showed remarkable activity. The high spots of the past month were two Halloween parties, one for the club girls and one for the house girls, and the inauguration banquet for the new Girls' Council. All the clubs are starting now on their Christmas "service work"—one making Christmas gifts and clothes for the Children's Aid Society; another knitting and sewing for the Victorian Order of Nurses, and still another making useful Christmas gifts for the girls of the Oriental Home. The youngest club girls held a home-made candy sale a short time ago, raising $4.50 for their Christmas work for the Friendly Help Welfare, and the Senior Business Girls had a "doughnut and coffee week," realizing $5.50 for their service project. Mrs. W. B. George was thanked for arranging a bridge in aid of the girls' work.

A Book, Travel and News Club meets fortnightly for supper and discussion; a new class in Danish gymnastics has been started under the leadership of Miss Karen Beyer, and the badminton, basketball and swimming classes continue to attract large numbers of girls interested in their health and figures.

The meeting adjourned for tea, attractively prepared by the girls of the household training class.

Freak Hats Suit All Tastes

Are you hungering for an opportunity to acquire some new hats? Here are some that will leave you consumed with envy, sort of millinery a la carte—you just look down the menu, give your order and the milliner will cook up one to your taste. Anyhow, that's what happened at the "Wear What You Eat" fashion show held by the Traphagen School of Design at Brigantine Beach, N.J. Look at this millinery bill of fare: The vegetable platter (left) complete with everything but the unsociable onion; to whet the appetite, the cocktail hat (centre), with "muddlers" as ornaments and gleaming paillettes bubbling about it; and, for those who dress for breakfast, the poached-egg-on-toast creation.

HONOR FORMER CITY MUSICIAN

Jackson Hanby Wins Warm Praise From Winnipeg Critic During Recent Visit

Jackson Hanby, former Victoria musical leader, at one time choirmaster at the First United Church and a life member of the Victoria Musical Festival Association, comes in for a large measure of praise from Major Key in a recent issue of The Winnipeg Tribune.

A short time ago the distinguished musical figure was made a life member of the Edmonton branch, Alberta Musical Festival Association.

Thirty years and more ago he pioneered in the young Edmonton, led choirs at First Presbyterian, McDougall and Robertson churches and produced several oratorios with united choirs, before leaving some years ago to reside at the Pacific coast. In 1907, with Vernon Barford and Howard Stutchbury, he arranged for the first musical festival in Alberta.

Rated in his prime—he is now over 70—as one of Canada's four foremost tenors, Mr. Hanby provides the theme for an entire column by Major Key, who sang his praises while Mr. Hanby was a visitor in Winnipeg recently.

BUT ONE RIVAL

"I can only name one rival," writes the major in part, "who excelled him in sacred and oratorio work: Edward Johnson, the Guelph boy now managing the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York. I have heard Hanby sing a big, ringing top D in Rossini's Stabat Mater and declaim with almost baritone power and effect in the middle and lower part of his voice, and he was splendidly artistic."

"At Edmonton and at Victoria, choral singing found a splendid champion in Mr. Hanby. Like Mr. Harold Bauer, the famous pianist, Mr. Hanby is apparently convinced that a sound foundation of music in a community must rest on the capacity of its citizens to make music among themselves."

"Mr. Hanby's success as a choral conductor created little short of a sensation in competitive circles when he brought a choir from Victoria to Vancouver. Sir Hugh Robertson was the adjudicator. He awarded the Hanby choir markings of 93 and 97, the highest ever given by Sir Hugh to a choir in Europe, Africa, Asia or America," as a press man remarked.

"A choir after my own heart," wrote Sir Hugh in the official document noting Victoria's victory. Mr. Hanby took pleasure in demonstrating the value of experience, plus, of course, the excellent choir material invariably ready to go to work under mature leadership."

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

1. Should a salesman who learns the location of a prospective customer's private office walk in unannounced if he is afraid he won't be granted an interview otherwise?

2. If a customer does not ask a salesman to have a chair, should he sit down anyway?

3. Should a salesman offer his hand to a prospective buyer?

4. Does a wise salesman open a business interview by talking about his interests or those of his customer?

5. Should a business man treat a salesman courteously whether he is interested in his product or not?

What would you do if—

The man to whom you are trying to make a sale keeps shuffling the papers on his desk instead of giving you his attention—

(a) Go on talking without appearing to notice that he isn't paying much attention to you?

(b) Stop talking until he gives you his undivided attention?

(c) Say, Mr. Blank, you don't seem very interested in what I have to say?

ANSWERS

1. The practice usually angers the prospect and does more harm than good.

2. Only if he says, "May I sit down?"

3. No, he should wait for the buyer to offer his hand.

4. About his customer's interests.

5. Yes, it is not only good manners, but also good business. Best "What Would You do?" solution—(b).

Police Ball In Saanich Nov. 19

Annual Event to Help Needy Children Will Be Held at Saanichton

The annual Saanich police ball which is staged by the department to raise funds which provide shoes and stockings for children of needy families during winter months will be held Friday night in the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton.

Chief Allan Rankin, chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements, said the tickets have been going fast and persons desiring them should speak early this week or there will be none left.

The ball will be staged under the auspices of the Saanich Police Commission and the patronage of Reeve and Mrs. Crouch.

Tickets may be secured from members of the department or Miss Helen Elliott, secretary, at the Municipal Hall.

Church Held Its Birthday Party

St. Martin's-in-the-Fields held its annual birthday party Wednesday. Canon H. W. G. Stocken took the chair. Eleven candles illuminated the large, decorated cake and everyone received an individual package of cakes and sandwiches, accompanied with tea.

A most successful concert included: Pianoforte solos by Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Buckingham and Patricia Smith; songs, Mr. Eade, Mrs. Murrant, Mrs. Garret, Joan Buckingham and Glenn Murrant violin solo, Frank Beaumont; Dutch dance, Eileen Gahan, Jean Pringle and Francis Logan; clog dance, Mr. Harmon; musical saw, Mr. McKenzie; minuet dance, Dorothea Roland and Jacqueline Logan; guitar duet, Arthur Jackson and David Rose; choruses, Mrs. Frew, Mary McGregor, Mary Burns, Vera Neville, Doris Neville and Eileen Gardener. The little dancers are the pupils of Miss Betti Claire.

Included in the magnificent display were about 70 of the large varieties and 35 of the pompons, bushy and anemone types, and Fred Saunders, the head gardener, answered many questions and received many compliments on his exquisite charges.

Honor Co-ed Pioneers

Celebrating the centennial of co-education, Oberlin College, at Oberlin, O., first institution in the United States to admit women to men's classes, dedicated a memorial gateway to the four girls who pioneered in this educational move. At left are students wearing costumes of the style 100 years ago.

Gorgeous Blossoms Shown

Chrysanthemum Tea Attracted 450 Guests to Hotel

Chrysanthemums in every variety from the dainty single and anemone blossoms through all the range of pompons, to the huge shaggy specimens, and in all the established hues as well as in many new and lovely shades, graced the Empress Hotel ballroom and foyer on Saturday afternoon and drew murmurs of admiration from the many guests.

The occasion was the annual Chrysanthemum Tea, and so popular wintry weather outside, a crowd of about 450 guests patronized it.

The centre of the ballroom was accented with a gorgeous arrangement of choice blossoms including the new unnamed sport and its parent, "Marjorie Woolman"; "Kingsford-Smith," the new Woolman creation, "Canada," "James Bradford," "H. E. True-nian," the pink Japanese-type "William Pocket," the straw-berried-colored "King George," "W. E. Waite," and other varieties.

The orchestra played appropriate numbers, enscenced behind a great bank of bloom in shades ranging from deep bronze and purple to pale gold and palest white. Single pots of the blossoms were also arranged beneath each wall-light around the ballroom, while in the foyer a central arrangement of the larger specimens and a massing of single varieties on the mantel and in the fireplace enhanced the beauty of the setting.

Included in the magnificent display were about 70 of the large varieties and 35 of the pompons, bushy and anemone types, and Fred Saunders, the head gardener, answered many questions and received many compliments on his exquisite charges.

"Il Trovatore" To Be Presented Here

The Victoria Grand Opera Association will present the first musical evening of the season at the club rooms, 1753 Rockland Avenue, on Wednesday evening at 8.30. On this occasion the first and second act of Verdi's ever-popular opera, "Il Trovatore," will be performed.

The cast will be as follows: Leonora, Thelma Johns; Azucena, Vivian McCahill; Inez, Ruth Shepherd; Manrico, George Farmer; Count di Luna, Harry Johns; Ferrando, David Oldham; Ruiz, Percy Ridgeley; gypsies and soldiers, Rita Shearing, Mary Nattress, Vera Bailey, Dave Hunter, James McVie, William Cobbett; principal dancer, Betty Fawcett.

After the performance, refreshments will be served, and a dance will follow. Tickets may be obtained from any of the members.

Miss A. Spencer Opened Bazaar

Miss Agnes Spencer opened the annual bazaar held Wednesday afternoon and evening by the City Temple Women's Auxiliary, which proved quite a success. She was presented with a corsage bouquet of carnations by Mrs. G. A. A. Hebdon.

During the afternoon solos by Mrs. M. Pebernart and dancing by Kathleen and Joyce Nairne, Pamela Newton, Audrey Patrick, Jacqueline Sisson, Audrey Murdoch, Myrtle Skelton and May Shrimpton, pupils of Molly Milton, were enjoyed, and during the evening solos by Mrs. L. Batchelor and dances by Rhoda Leberman, Thelma Hawkins and Teresa Perkins, pupils of Miss Florence Clough.

The stalls were in charge of the following: Fancy work, Mrs. Dash and Mrs. Lewis; novelties, Mrs. S. Brown and Mrs. E. Goodman; aprons, Mrs. Couke and Mrs. Bond; candy, Mrs. Lindley, Mrs. J. Hedley and Mrs. L. W. Cox; home cooking, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Celler; flowers and plants, Mrs. M. Hammond; miscellaneous, Mrs. Black; Christmas cards, Mrs. A. L. Oakley and Mrs. N. HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

TUESDAY, November 16, 1937

Adverse planetary aspects appear to rule today, according to astrology. Although there is no sign promising to labor, the planetary government is threatening.

Jupiter is in a place red as perplexing to leaders in every human activity. In business and in government perils are many. This is not an auspicious date for starting any important project.

Mental processes in both men and women may be ill-directed. There will be a general tendency to criticism. The young may be headstrong and difficult to direct.

In educational institutions there will be much wrong-thinking on political and economic topics. As great tests to human life are preparing, the people will be restless.

Women will face problems in the household where many minds are likely to conflict, and long established customs cease to be acceptable.

This is not a lucky date for social entertainments. Courtship will amuse men, but emotions are likely to be unstable. Summer engagements to marry may be broken.

This will be a disappointing week to certain producers of plays for stage or screen. The quest for entertainment is to be keen, however, as the winter season advances.

Fires in motion picture studios and factories are indicated by the stars. Heavy losses are also prognosticated.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of prosperity, but they should guard their tempers. Emotional upheavals may be frequent. Many opportunities for gain are presented.

Children born on this day may be keen of mind and fond of both mental and physical exertion. Subjects of this sign of Scorpio are usually determined, tenacious and strong-willed.

John Bright, English statesman and orator, was born on this day 1811. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Edward Everett Ayer, financier, 1841; King Kalakaua I of Hawaii, 1836. (Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

MEN LOVE PEPPY GIRLS

If you are happy and peppy and full of fun, men will take you places. If you are lively, they will invite you to dances and parties. BUT, if you are cross and lifeless and always tired out, men won't be interested in you. Men don't like "quiet" girls. Men go to parties to enjoy themselves. They want girls along who are full of pep. For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus leaving the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "smiling through."

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

"My boys were ashamed of this old store until they tried their luck in the cities for a few years."

Letters to the Editor

INJUSTICE TO CHINA AND ITS LOST BATTALION

To the Editor:—It has been said that war is to be compared, but then on a large scale, to a note of alarmists, but the earnest appeal of those who, having studied the trend of events, and compared them with Bible prophecy, are like the Apostle Paul, anxious about their fellowmen's souls' salvation and are "willing to become all things to all men, that by all means they might save some!"

FOOLS AND GOD'S GIFTS

To the Editor:—
 "The fool hath said in his heart There is no God."

—Psalm 14.

If God really took "the fool" seriously, (fortunately for the rest of us He does not) and removed Himself, His power, His blessings, His love and His mercy from this world, would not our condition be one of indescribable misery?

Since good belongs to God only, all good would be swept away, including every good law, Murder, hatred, cruelty, theft and lust would be rampant, with all of us in the hands of the devil (the source of all evil). Every man's hand would be against his neighbor, and no one's life or property would be safe.

Nature, lacking the love of her Creator, would also be in the hands of the devil. The sun would cease to shine upon the earth, and growth would stop. The beauty of trees would be changed to ugliness, the scent of flowers to a foul odor, and color, one of God's most gracious gifts to us, would be gone with the sun.

The sea, missing the Divine Voice which says "Thus far shall thou come and no farther," would rear itself into huge walls of water, which, flinging themselves upon the land, would destroy vegetation and level cities.

No ship would cross the ocean in safety. The wind, out of control, like the sea, would rush shrieking over the cold dark earth, overturning homes and leaving death and desolation in its path. Electricity (that great power whose wonderful possibilities for good have only been guessed at), also lacking the controlling hand of its Originator, would strike, like a huge knife in the hands of a giant, through a blinded and panic-stricken populace.

Water and air would become foul. (Pure air and water are God's gifts.) Even the fine arts would be an evil influence, minus the "divine spark." Every kind of vice would flourish unchecked, for our thin veneer of civilization could not control the evil passions originated in mankind by the devil.

The aged and tiny babies would be uncared for in the streets, for, in a world without God, parental affection and human friendship would be unknown.

Sick people, helpless children and domestic animals would be the target for every cowardly cruelty that the mind of man could devise, for if the attributes of God (good) were removed from human nature, what is left but the devil and his evil?

And after the death of the body, what would be the fate of the souls who had despised God, trampled Christ underfoot and counted the blood of the covenant an unholy thing? (Hebrews 10:29). Would not the soul be dwelling in some evil condition or world, separated from God, and therefore from all good?

If so, love would be gone, and with it peace, joy, faith, hope and beauty. Every good impulse, every pure and holy aspiration, and every high ideal would be swept from our souls, the devil would be in complete possession of what God had intended to be His own dwelling-place, and the eternal life that was offered to us, a life in which we (purified from sin) should dwell with God as sons of God, would be lost to us forever.

A perusal of the 30th chapter of Deuteronomy, from the 15th verse to end of chapter, and of the 14th Psalm, should help the misguided folk who think that they, and the rest of us, are better off without God.

COMMUNITY CONCERT PLAN

To the Editor:—In order to avoid conflicting with the Community Chest drive, the Musical Art Society put off its preliminary campaign work with the result the week's active campaign for the community concerns will begin before the majority of those who may become members have been sufficiently informed of the advantages of belonging to the association.

We are being asked such questions as to just what the plan of this form of concert work is; why it is a better plan than bringing artists to Victoria either singly or as a series, under the auspices of our society; and how the concerts are to be financed? The Community Concerts Association is an international one with branches in many cities in the United States and Canada, and is a division of the Columbia Broadcasting Company. It is a non-profit, non-loss institution, the Columbia Company taking all the risks, and promising good artists.

At the close of the week's campaign the money that has been subscribed is counted and as many and as celebrated artists are engaged as can be bought for the amount subscribed.

All membership fees are taken by a local treasurer to a local bank, and the only expenses in connection with the year's work are those of running the campaign and the resting of a suitable place to hold the concerts. All expenses will be kept as low as possible, as the committee naturally wishes to engage the best possible artists.

No tickets will be available for single concerts; no one may join for the current year after the campaign is over; tickets are transferable.

The committee cannot tell who the artists (a minimum of three each year) will be, as they will not know until the last night of the campaign; but every name on the list means a good artist in his or her own particular field.

Last, but not least, is the great advantage of the artists being sure of an audience no matter what the weather or the number of other things to interfere; and the assurance to the committee that it will not be out financially.

The campaign office is located at 635 Yates Street, telephone Garden 7412, and the office will be open all week from 2 to 4 p.m.

STORIES IN STAMPS By I. S. Klein

Turn of the 16th century saw successful conquest of southern India by the Portuguese and the beginning of a new imperialism that radiated from the shoddy capital, Goa. Travelers described the city as the seat of fifth, vice and crime.

Into this licentious port came St. Francis Xavier, Jesuit missionary, early in the spring of 1542. Scion of a wealthy, noble family in Spain, he chose the east as his ground for the spreading of Christianity. At 36 he began his long and dangerous task.

From Goa he traveled through hostile country to preach to strange tribes. Patiently he translated the Scriptures for them. The great sincerity and the austere beauty of his own life lent strange persuasiveness to his work.

Trudging along in sandals, poorly clad, Xavier, pushed on to Ceylon, thence to Malacca, Japan and China. He gained a foothold for Christianity in Japan, but died on a lonely island near Canton before his work began in China.

His tomb is in Goa. Xavier is portrayed on a 1931 stamp of Portuguese India.

The only prehistoric people known to use platinum in jewelry were Indians in Ecuador.

CALLING ALL DOGS

By ALBERT LAYSON TERHUNE
 MAX, THE FAR-TRAVELING POLICE DOG

One of the countless maxims about animals is this: "Dogs love people; cats love places." It is more or less true.

The average dog accepts gladly a place in his master's new home, nor will he bother to return to the neighborhood where he once lived. Whereas, thousands of cats have deserted the new homes to which their owners have carried them and have found their way again to the houses where formerly they abode.

In short, "The Cat Came Back." The dog didn't. He stayed on with the master he loved.

Max was an exception to the rule. His affections were bound up in the home of his master, not in the master himself, nor the master's family.

He was a big and handsome police dog ("German shepherd," as I have told you, is the technical name, nowadays, for this fine breed) and he belonged to Robert L. Martin of 1700 24th Street, Des Moines, Iowa.

He seemed devoted to Martin and to the latter's wife, and especially to their little daughter, Shirley. So, when the Martins moved from Des Moines to Denver, Colorado, and took Max along, they had every reason to believe the dog would be happy in his new surroundings and well content to remain with the family which had brought him up and of whom he was so fond.

They were mistaken. Max happened to be one of those uncommon dogs who give more loyalty to the place they live in than to the humans they live with. Such instances, among cats, are frequent. Among dogs, they are extremely few.

Many a dog has undertaken a long journey to rejoin some master or mistress who was dear to him. Almost none has run away from such master or mistress in order to go back to an old and deserted home. Yet Max was such a dog. Let's get to this story, shall we?

I told you he went to Denver with Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Martin, and with little Shirley, whom he worshipped, to their new home there. That was in November of 1936.

Denver is a beautiful city. It is a place which has brought renewed health to many thousands of invalids and which has given golden business opportunities to as many thousands of new comers. But it meant less than nothing to Max, the police dog.

Max's heart was in Des Moines, Iowa, some 750 miles to the eastward. And he decided to let his body follow his heart thither.

He had been brought to Denver in a closed car. He had no way — no way known to us humans, at least — of finding his road back to his old home. That made no difference to Max. He resolved to go there, anyhow. And he went.

Now this is not one of the usual yarns of a dog which vanishes into space and whose owners have no method of guessing what has become of him, the tale of a dog who spends months in wandering dazedly along strange country. Max had some odd power of knowing just where he was bound for; and how to get there.

Also, his owners were in no doubt at all as to where he was headed. As you shall see.

When Max disappeared from his new quarters in Denver, Mrs. Martin wrote to an old-time Des Moines friend and former close neighbor, Mrs. Stanley C. Wilmore of 1658 24th Street, Des Moines, telling her the Martin family were certain their dog was headed for Des Moines, and asking her erstwhile neighbor to be on the lookout for him.

How Mrs. Martin could have been so certain of this fact, I don't know. I wish I did. But there appears to have been no doubt in her mind as to whether the erratic police dog was bound.

The season was winter. That meant there was severe weather throughout the states which Max had to cross on his unguided homeward hike. But the big dog does not seem to have been bothered in the least by the climatic conditions.

Nor do the Martins appear to have done any worrying at all as to his fate. They had full trust in Max's cleverness, a trust born, a year earlier, when Baby Shirley had wandered away from home one day and had been lost. Mrs. Martin had sent Max to hunt for the child, and then had notified the police. Soon a squeaky-phoned back to the mother:

"We've found the little girl, all right, ma'am. But you'll have to come for her yourself. I don't aim to have any of my men chewed up. A great big police dog is standing close beside her and he won't let any of us come near."

Now, when the dog had left Denver after giving the splendid city only a week's tryst as a future place of residence, the Martins had full faith in his ability to look out for himself. And their belief was justified.

The only surprise, on either side, was that he made the 750-mile journey with such unerring speed. Mrs. Wilmore did not count on seeing him again for perhaps half a year or more.

Yet, precisely 47 days after his disappearance in Denver, the wise dog trotted up to the doorstep of his one-time abode in 21st Street in Des Moines.

He had covered the entire distance, over strange and hostile territory, at the rate of about 16 miles a day. To the best of my knowledge that establishes a speed record for any such dog, returning over a long stretch of unknown country.

But, the collie which made his way over the (roughly) 900 miles from Albuquerque, New Mexico, to Fort Scott, Kansas, took a full eight months for the trip. Duke, the setter which made the historic 1,500-mile hike to his old home, traveled only at about five miles a day, on an average. And so on, through many another distance record for dogs.

Forty-seven days after he left Denver, Max arrived, worn out and lame, at the Martin house in Des Moines.

At the front door he paused, in evident bewilderment. Strange people were occupying the house. They had no welcome, no word at all, for the exhausted canine wanderer.

Then he turned his swollen feet toward the doorway of the Wilmore house, a very short distance away. In the yard he sank down, exhausted, and fell asleep.

Mrs. Wilmore's little daughter — a former playfellow of Shirley, and of Max's too — came out and gathered the dog's weary head into her baby arms and laid it on her lap as she sat close beside him.

Thus the cameramen found and photographed them. After which Max was taken to a dog hospital to be cared for

SECOND SECTION

Boston, Americans and Detroit Win Hockey

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

PAID MY first visit the other evening to the fine quarters of the Victoria table tennis experts, where the city championships were in progress. Can truthfully say the sight was a revelation. Had no idea the indoor sport had taken such a grasp in this city. The playing space is large, with plenty of tables, but accommodation for spectators was at a premium and the fans displayed a keen interest in the progress of the various matches.

Ping-pong, as it was originally known, until somebody got high-hat and switched to table tennis, has developed into a mighty fast and fascinating sport the way it is played these days. One feature that struck the writer was the many different styles adopted by the players.

Watched Wilnot Browne-Cave defending men's singles championship in his match with young Billy Cotton, city junior monarch. Their styles were as different as day and night. Browne-Cave, who is a southpaw, relies entirely on craft and the ability to force his opponent into making mistakes. Seldom does he smash the ball, being content to keep the ball going back over the table until he makes his rival net the pellet or drive it off the table.

Cotton was visibly nervous and as a result his game suffered. The youngster has a pleasing style and got over many beautiful smashes, but his hard-hitting was practically useless against the smoothness of Browne-Cave's stroking. It was interesting to watch the veteran paddle-handler use his experience to whip the youngster in three straight sets.

On another table two real "smashers," Bill Tysoe and Lawrie Greenwood, were engaged in a battle that saw the celluloid sphere go back across the table with the speed of a machine-gun bullet. No volleying for this pair. They just hit the ball and sometimes their opponent can't move fast enough to get out of the way.

Another player who interested the writer was little Lou Poy, the Chinese star. None of the competitors take their game more seriously than this diminutive pooker-faced Oriental. He plays every shot as though his life depended on the outcome, but don't ever think he can't smash that ball when an opponent leaves an opening.

Just a few short weeks ago they fought—men against the fish. And now those anglers who hurled many an imprecation against departing silver kings as they broke away from glittering lures, wire lines and rods, watch the successful ones.

From the bridge that spans Goldstream, from the banks of the brown and green-graveled little river where bright-tinted maple leaves flutter down through autumn-chilled air, they watch the salmon fight up to the spawning grounds.

Discolored, bruised, with patches of skin torn away, the once sleek silver fish harness their ebbing strength to battle upward. Wheeling gulls pick the flesh of those that fall by the wayside. A dorsal fin weaves through the stiller waters as the fish jockeys for the rush against a cascading weir. A frenzied flurry, the thrashing of a muscular tail and the salmon has hurdled another barrier. It rests, preparing for another attack.

On the bank and on the bridge the sportsmen stand. Inwardly they applaud the gallant struggles of those same fish they cursed escaping in the wider stretches of the inlet and the open sea.

Hard on Swansea
SWANSEA, Wales.—Swansea University Rugby Club created a stir by deciding all students selected for the college team will not be allowed to play for other clubs. W. H. T. Davies and Haydn Tanner, Swansea's international halfbacks are among those affected.

Americans 2, Maroons 0.

Young, aggressive hockey clubs, Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins rode ahead of their sections of the National League today in a show of power that dulled the lustre of last year's champions.

It's not new for Leafs and Bruins to be striding out in front, for both headed their divisions in 1932-33 and 1934-35, and one or the other has led its section most other years since 1927-28. They were pushed well back in the shadows last season by Montreal Canadiens and Detroit, but if the young players develop as they should, the current leaders will be hard to keep out of another duel for the league championship.

Boston is tied with Chicago in the American section, but Bruins have started only twice and won twice, while Bill Stewart's Black Hawks have won once, drawn twice and lost twice in five starts. The Leafs have won two of their four games and tied the others.

The potentialities of the top teams were etched a little more clearly during the week-end, when Toronto whipped Chicago, 7 to 3, at home and tied the Hawks, 3 to 3, in Chicago last night, while Boston opened its home schedule with a 3 to 2 victory over New York Rangers. They attained new prominence in a week-end of as furious shuffling as the season will bring.

DETROIT MOVES UP
Boston stepped to the front with Hawks, while Detroit's world champion Red Wings advanced from fourth to third place by splitting two games with Canadiens, losing 5 to 2, in Montreal, Saturday, and winning, 2 to 1, in Detroit last night. Rangers' loss sent them to the bottom. Leafs went further ahead in the Canadian section as Americans leaped from last place to second through a 2 to 0 win over Montreal Maroons in New York last night. Canadiens dropped to third spot, Maroons to fourth.

The youngsters were responsible for most of Boston's display of strength against Rangers and the team faded in the late stages to maintain a bare lead. Bobby Bauer and Milt Schmidt of the "baby line" from Kitchener, Ont., got the first two Bruin goals single-handed, and Bill Cowley ended the Boston scoring in the second period.

Rangers were sparked into action by young Clint Smith, who passed to Butch Keeling for New York's first goal six minutes before the finish, then handed Babe Pratt a pass which the defence-man drilled between Tiny Thompson's legs.

Big Charlie Conacher of the bullet shot, out of the game through injury most of last winter, supplied Toronto's main drive against Hawks. He whipped in three of the seven goals Saturday and two of the three last night.

Johnny Gottselig rapped in Paul Thompson's rebound in the third period to bring Chicago its draw and a single point in the two nights of scrimmaging. The teams were unable to score in overtime, in contrast to their Saturday night scoring spree, in which Harvey Jackson added two goals to Conacher's three.

Leafs might have added to their edge in that contest but they drew eight of the 11 penalties. The other game was tensely fought, though, and Chicago's 13,000 fans welcomed the even play and hard-hitting tactics.

Stampede Ends Charity Golf

Gallery Charges Disrupt and End Montague-Babe Ruth Exhibition

NEW YORK.—The wildest, craziest golf gallery that ever stamped through a sand-trap disrupted and finally broke up yesterday's charity exhibition at the Fresh Meadow Country Club, leaving the enthralling question of John Montague's golfing skill a mystery.

At the end of nine holes, when everybody concerned, including the 10,000 spectators, had enough, Montague and his blonde partner, Sylvia Annenberg, were approximately 2 down to Babe Ruth and Babe Didrickson. Approximately 10 minutes later, Montague was unable to play out two holes and none of the quartette managed to reach the short ninth green after having hit their tee shots.

It was wild and woolly from the start. Jim Braddock, the former heavyweight champion, left the premises in haste after battling through to the first two greens. "I'm getting away from here before I get a foot in my face," he said, desperately. Although 10,000 tickets had been sold at $1 a piece, no provision whatever was made to police the gallery. Practically all second shots, as a result, were hit over the crowd.

All the leading professionals in the New York district were out to get a gander at Montague's game. Not being natural-born rough-and-tumbler like most of the gallery, they saw very little.

WINS DECISIVE IN CAGE GAMES

Klausner & Son, Bombers and St. Albans Victors in Sunday School Loop

Decisive victories featured Sunday School Basketball League games played Saturday night at the Y.M.C.A. After gaining an early lead, Klausner and Son coasted to a 35 to 20 win over the Y.M.C.A. quintette in an intermediate fixture. Bombers ran roughshod over Christ Church to the tune of 30 to 10 in the same section, while St. Albans beat the Y. squad, 31 to 17, in a junior match.

Bob Malcolm refereed. The teams and scores follow: Y.M.C.A.—Willis, Winslow 4, Rae, Caulfield 9, Watson, Sprinkling 4, and Province. Total 17. St. Albans—Ball 2, Preston 4, Coates 8, McCorkall, Wille, Lea 4, Kinney 2, Lansdale 3, Levy 8, and Clarke. Total 31.

Klausner and Son—Richards 10, Taylor, Thomas, McCorkall 12, Minnis 6, Peebles, Watson 7, and Stevenson. Total 35. Y.M.C.A.—Tisdale 2, Barnes, Utki 7, Walls 9, Sparks and Patkinson 2. Total 20.

Christ Church—Clarke, McGraw, Jackson, McArthur 4, Coates 2, Bennett 4, and Bryson. Total 10. Bombers—Ingils 5, Mason, Mylrea 1, Cummins 6, Cullins, Morrison 11, Ross 6, and Sellick 1. Total 30.

CAMBRIDGE, England.—T. B. Langton who rowed No. 6 in this year's Oxford-Cambridge boat race, won by Oxford, was elected president of the Cambridge University Boat Club recently.

Two New Members of Maroons

Three $25 Fines On Ice Players

MONTREAL.—Fines of $25 apiece were assessed by President Frank Calder of the National Hockey League Saturday against Babe Siebert of Montreal Canadiens and Slew Evans of Montreal Maroons for their part in a fight that broke out in last Thursday's Maroons-Canadiens game.

At the same time, the league head absolved Siebert from deliberately kicking Northcott, as the Maroon had charged after the third-period free-for-all in the penalty box. Northcott's forehead gash took two stitches to close.

The fines will be turned over to the Howie Moroz benefit fund.

Open Play In Shuttle Event

Annual Handicap Badminton Tournament of Willows Club Under Way

Play opened Saturday in the annual handicap tournament of the Willows Badminton Club with 11 matches played. The competition will continue this evening at 7:30 with a heavy programme of matches scheduled.

Other matches will be played after this schedule if time permits.

Pedens Ride Third In Chicago Grind

Four Leading Teams Finish in Mileage Tie; Kilian-Vopel Win on Points

CHICAGO.—Gustav Kilian and his partner, Heinz Vopel of Germany, captured their sixth consecutive six-day bicycle race in winning Chicago's 38th international grind, which finished at the Chicago Stadium shortly after midnight.

The Germans were victorious on points, with a total of 1,444 registered in the sprints. They finished in a mileage deadlock with three other teams.

The Canadian brothers, Douglas and Torchy Peden, and the French riders, Emile Ignat and Emile Dlot, winners of Chicago's last two bike races, and the Belgian American pair, Gerard Debaets and Bobby Thomas, the latter of Kenosha, Wis., were the other teams in the four-way mileage finish. Each team covered 2,400 miles and nine laps.

The Frenchmen, with 1,012 points, were awarded second place. While the Pedens of Victoria, B.C., took third place. Thomas and Debaets were awarded fourth place.

The final standing follows: Kilian-Vopel, 2,400 9 1,444; Ignat-Dlot, 2,400 9 1,012; W. Peden-D. Peden, 2,400 9 985; Debaets-Thomas, 2,400 9 556; Letourner-Reboul, 2,400 8 423; Rodman-Walls, 2,400 7 523; Walthour-Crosley, 2,400 7 383.

BIG SEVEN OF MAJOR HOCKEY

Gordon Drillon continued to pace the National Hockey League scoring derby as his team, Toronto Maple Leafs, nabbed 10 goals in two week-end games with Chicago. Drillon scored twice and got one assist, to boost his point total to seven, one more than the mark attained by his teammate, Charlie Conacher, in ripping five goals home. Tied for third place through week-end activity, and increasing the list of leaders to eight, were Marty Barry, Detroit; Harvey Jackson, Toronto; Mush March and Doc Romnes, Chicago, and George Mantha and Armand Mondou, Canadiens.

The leaders follow:

Team	G	A	Pts.
Drillon, Toronto	4	3	7
Conacher, Toronto	5	1	6
Jackson, Toronto	4	1	5
Mantha, Canadiens	4	1	5
Barry, Detroit	3	2	5
March, Chicago	3	2	5
Romnes, Chicago	2	3	5
Mondou, Canadiens	1	4	5

Dominoes Mark Up Fifth Win In Row

Vancouver Golf Clubhouse Burned

NEW WESTMINSTER.—Fire of unknown origin last night destroyed the $20,000 clubhouse of the Vancouver Golf and Country Club, a few miles from here. Occupants of the 27-year-old frame building at the time of the fire escaped unhurt. The blaze swept unchecked.

Defeat Seattle Elks 37 to 29 in Intercity Basketball; Scottish Victors

Although they did not turn in their usual sparkling performance on the maplewood floor Saturday night, Victoria Dominos basketballers made it five straight victories over Seattle aggregations by humbling Frank Ferguson's Seattle Elks, 37 to 29, in an intercity exhibition duel at the High School gym.

There was a recession in the attendance, about 300 being present.

The visiting antlered tribesmen were lacking the services of two of their ace players—Dick Foster and Harlan Jackson—and have only been together for two practices this season, but in spite of that put up a splendid fight against Dave Nichol's forces, who were off color. The Dominos bungled many promising combination plays with poor passing and were very erratic in their marksmanship from the free throw line.

Cotton Dinner Is Boycotted

Banquet to British Open Champion Canceled Through Lack of Guests

LONDON.—Henry Cotton, Great Britain's open golf champion, was his usual unflinching self today, although a complimentary dinner planned in his honor was cancelled for lack of acceptance.

Cotton failed to turn up for the final day's play in a tourney at Southend, so the sports world refused to turn up at the testimonial banquet.

"You can't please everyone all the time," Cotton commented. Explaining his withdrawal from the tourney he said:

"Like everyone else, I enter to win a prize. If I am not doing well I am entitled to cut my losses. Anyway, the spectators still flock to see my play, and wherever I go I seem to have friends aplenty."

Clippers Clip Seattle Squad

Spokane Takes Lead in Infant Pacific Coast Hockey Schedule

SPOKANE, Wash.—Spokane's Clippers held down the driver's seat in the Pacific Coast Hockey League today with an eye cocked at tonight's clash between Seattle Seahawks and Lions at Vancouver.

Only team in the infant schedule's win column, Clippers overplayed the Seahawks for a 1 to 0 victory here last night. It was their second clean-cut decision—they opened the season with a 2 to 1 win over Portland a week ago—and gave them top slot with four points.

Trailing is Portland with three points, Seattle with two and Vancouver with one. Some 2,000 customers saw the Clippers fire in the only goal of the game just past the eight-minute mark when Connie King took wingman Louis Holmes' assist and slapped the puck into the Seahawks' goal.

The game was the cleanest of the league schedule so far, only one penalty meted out. Big Dave Gilhooley drew two minutes just before the close of the opening period.

Ernie King, who partners Gilhooley on Spokane's rearguard, was out of the game through illness.

SUMMARY
First period—1, Spokane, King (Holmes), 8:09. Penalties: Gilhooley.
Second period—No score. Penalties: None.
Third period—No score. Penalties: None.

Youthful Gridder Has Broken Neck

TORONTO.—William McFarlane, 19-year-old halfback of Etobicoke High School's rugby team, suffered a broken neck in an inter-school game here Saturday, and is in a serious condition in a hospital. McFarlane was attempting a flying tackle of a ball carrier on the East York High School team when injured.

For 30 minutes of the battle the Sound City hoopers more than held their own with the Dominos, at times assuming the lead. But in the final 10 minutes Nico's boys settled down to play ball, drawing away from their opponents on the scoreboard to finish with a sizeable margin.

Art Chapman, sinking a number of beautiful one-handed attempts, emerged with 11 points to his credit and Moose Rogin, in spite of quite a few misses from the foul lines, finished with a like number of points. Al Ott with eight points topped the visitors' scoring brigade, while Corrigan and Faust got six and five, respectively.

SCOTS WIN
Canadian Scottish hoopers took over the lead in the intermediate boys division of the Victoria and District Basketball League with a 38 to 29 victory over St. Louis College Alumni in the opening skirmish of the evening. Doug Dray played a fast and hard game for the Klitties and came through with top scoring honors. He bagged 17 points. Bigstaff Martin of the losers was high man with a even dozen points.

With both teams getting off to an even start the first half of the feature match was a nip-and-tuck scramble for all of 16 minutes, with first one team and then the other marching to the fore on the scoreboard. The score at this time stood 16 to 15 for the Victoria unit. The Dominos held the Elks off for the remainder of the half, and at the same time piled up five more points to establish a 21 to 15 lead when the breather arrived. "Webb" Webster's free throw and basket and Moose Rogin's two-pointers, accounted for the five points.

The Seattle team adjusted their hoop sights and were perking on all four cylinders when they opened up in the second half, and after 10 minutes of play had shaved their deficit to a mere two points—the score being 25 to 23—but at this stage of the game the Dominos found their stride and sprinted well out of danger. The locals marked up a dozen points to their opponents' six in the last 10 minutes.

Tommy Macedo and Bob Macmurchie refereed.

The teams and scores follow: Dominos—Rogin 11, C. Chapman 2, A. Chapman 11, Rowe 2, Davies, Webster 5, Kinner and Taylor 6. Total 37.

Seattle Elks—Corrigan 6, Ott 8, Bunstein, Faust 5, Hefeditz 4, Khlie 2, Paulson 2 and Estep 2. Total 29.
Canadian Scottish—Mylrea 7, Fricker 9, Whyte 3, Bray 17, Purdy, McCall, Dale and Lovell 2. Total 38.

St. Louis College Alumni—Hughes 1, Bridgman 9, B. Martin 12, S. Martin 5, Perry 2 and Gills. Total 29.

Vic Tully Takes Ping-pong Title

Defeats W. Browne-Cave, Defending Champion, in City Final

The defeat of Wilmot Browne-Cave, defending men's singles titleholder, in the semi-finals, and the subsequent crowning of Vic Tully as the new champion, featured the playoff matches as the Victoria Table Tennis Association city tournament came to a close Saturday night.

Browne-Cave was eliminated by Lou Poy, Chinese ping-pong flash, and the latter bowed to Tully in the final set-to. Tully accounted for Bill Tysoe in the other semi-final.

Mildred Phillips, women's singles champion, and Bill Cotton, junior titleholder, retained their crowns. Miss Phillips defeated Mrs. L. Butcher, 21-14, 21-11, 21-17, while Cotton ousted Lou Poy in a hot five-set battle. The scores were 9-21, 21-14, 15-21, 21-19, 21-19.

CHAMPION LOSES
In the senior division the Chinese ace was extended to four hard games before taking the measure of Browne-Cave. Poy used slamming drives to break through the cagey placements of the former champion. The Chinese boy took the opening game 21-15, dropped the second 23-25, and then came through in the third and fourth encounters to win 21-14 and 22-20.

After scraping through the semi-final five-set struggle over Bill Tysoe, 19-21, 21-16, 21-8, 19-21, 21-15, Vic Tully hit his stride in the final to blast Lou Poy from the tables in a straight-set triumph. The scores were 21-14, 21-18, 21-13.

JUNIOR STAR WINS
The evening's most interesting match saw Bill Cotton down the Chinese ace in the junior final. The consistent steady playing of Cotton won him the struggle.

Vic Tully and Bill Cotton added the men's doubles title to their performance later in the evening when they defeated Pete Green-smith and Wilmot Browne-Cave, 17-21, 21-11, 12-21, 21-7, 21-15.

The mixed doubles championship went to Barbara MacKay and Vic Tully when they batted their way to a five-set triumph over Mary MacKay and Bill Cotton. The scores were 22-20, 15-21, 22-20, 12-21, 21-19.

WOMEN'S DOUBLES
Turning in a smart exhibition, Mrs. Butcher and Mrs. Greenwood captured the women's doubles title with a 21-14, 21-17 win over Mary and Barbara MacKay.

At the conclusion of the evening's play Don McClure, president of the Victoria Table Tennis League, presented the championship trophies. He complimented the winners and thanked all those responsible for the success of the tournament.

JACK O'CONNOR DIES
ST. LOUIS (AP)—Jack O'Connor, star major-league catcher in the '90's, and one-time manager of St. Louis Browns, died yesterday. He was 65. He had played with Columbus, Denver, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and St. Louis teams. He managed the Browns during the latter part of the 1909 season and through the 1910 campaign.

NORTH SHORE WINS
VANCOUVER—North Shore Lions Saturday defeated Knights of Columbus, 8 to 0, to gain a tie with Meralomas at the top of the Big Four Canadian Rugby League. It was the only Big Four game played.

Not a Record
LONDON—When Chelsea and Arsenal drew 2 to 2 at Stamford Bridge, a few weeks ago 75,952 persons attended, but it was not a record for the noted soccer ground. Meeting of the clubs attracted 82,905 in 1935.

Off to Good Start
ADELAIDE—Frank Ward, young Australian googly bowler who last year declined an offer to play for Sir Julian Cahn's team in England, took seven wickets for 39 runs in his first game of the season.

BOSTON, AMERICANS AND DETROIT WIN HOCKEY

KILREA'S GOAL WINS

Detroit had to come from behind to win on Hec Kilrea's third-period goal in the second tussle with Canadiens, after being thoroughly humbled at Montreal in the first. Pete Kelly broke through the defence and handed the puck to Kilrea for the deciding counter after George Mantha had given the Habitants an early lead and Johnny Sorrell had tied it up.

Mantha and his linemates, Armand Mondou and Rod Lorrain, led the Canadiens to their unexpectedly decisive triumph Saturday. After Herbie Lewis and Marty Barry sent Detroit ahead 2 to 0, Mantha got Canadiens' first goal in the 18th minute of the second period. After that the Mantha-Mondou-Lorrain line and Aurel Joliat and Johnny Gagnon fairly flew to snow the Wings under.

Transformed into a league power through Red Dutton's off-season deals, Americans attracted 15,000 to Madison Square Garden, and they're bound to pack the place again if they keep up their fighting finishes.

The amazing Amerks shot both their goals against Maroons in the final period and the game brought a fist fight between Hooley Smith, recent Dutton acquisition, and Jerry Shannon of the Maroons. Another newcomer, Jack Shill, whipped home the first goal and Nels Stewart sank the other aided by Joe Jerwa. Earl Robertson, obtained from Detroit, turned in his second shutout in three starts for Americans.

Meralomas Suffer First Rugby Loss
VANCOUVER—Reinforced by the return of three of their stars, North Shore All-Blacks Saturday handed Meralomas a 3 to 0 defeat and ruined the orange and black squad's unbeaten record in the Vancouver English Rugby Union.

Rowing Club crushed Occasionals, 15 to 6, in the only other game played.

The New Westminster University of British Columbia battle was canceled due to a heavy fall of snow, which made the ground unplayable.

The result of the North Shore Meralomas game left University of British Columbia but two points behind Meralomas in the Miller Cup series with a game in hand. Varsity meets the orange and black club at the University Stadium Saturday.

Varsity Cagers Lose to Staceys
VANCOUVER—Staceys edged through to a close last-second win over University of British Columbia Thunderbirds, 30 to 28, Saturday night, and Munros defeated Westerns, 43 to 35, in two inter-city basketball League fixtures.

Staceys led the champion Thunderbirds 19 to 13 at half time, but the students were leading by two points with two minutes to go. Trev Harvey scored a basket for Staceys to tie the score and "Long John" Purvis scored the winning basket just before the whistle.

Munros led Westerns 20 to 16 at half time, but the score was tied at 33-all in the last few minutes before Munros pulled away in a final scoring drive.

LEVY WINNER OF MAT BOUT

"Blimp" Provides Fans With Much Laughter in Defeating Freeman

There was one of the finest wrestling exhibitions seen here for many days at the Tillamook Gym Saturday night, when Paul Boesch of Long Island and Kimon Kudo of Japan battled to a draw, in a mixed bout of catch-as-catch-can and jujutsu, but probably the feature that packed the house was the appearance of Martin "Blimp" Levy, who turns the scale at the modest mark of 667 pounds.

The Blimp won. He beat Little Herbie Freeman of New York, who weighs a mere 265 and found there was nothing he could do about it. The Blimp, who is short despite his weight, was as broad as he is long, and proved to be a mountain of flesh that Herbie couldn't do anything with. Martin held his hand out. Herbie tugged it, but 667 pounds was too much to move, so he let go in a bewildered way and Martin smiled serenely.

LOTS OF FUN

Martin, smiling, stuck his face forward and Herbie dashed and tried to grab his whiskers. Martin drew his head back, stuck his huge stomach out and smiled and Herbie couldn't even reach his face. Martin ambled over to a corner with his stomach protruding and Herbie, annoyed, punched at it like a punching bag. For all the indications Martin gave he wasn't being touched. They came into the centre of the ring and Martin rolled over in an attempt to get on a step-over toe hold but missed. Herbie tried to lift him, but could not move him an inch. Herbie tried a drop kick, missed and while he was on the floor Martin glided over, pressed his huge body on him and Herbie was out for good.

Boesch and Kudo went four swift rounds in catch-as-catch-can style before Boesch gained a fall. As Kudo was attempting the last of several flying tackles Boesch's foot shot out like a gun and the Japanese went down and out. Boesch had little chance in the jujutsu style.

Chief Chivacki won by a foul over Patrick O'Shocker, in which rules were thrown to the winds and the heavyweights mixed it viciously with fists and elbow butts. O'Shocker also mauled Johnny Pears, the referee, and put him out for a time.

Reg Hopkins got a one-fall victory over Al Garnott. Jack Frost beat Jim Casey.

The monthly meeting of the Victoria Music Teachers' Association will be held at 10 a.m. on Wednesday in the Y.W.C.A.

The Credit Grantees' Association will hold its luncheon meeting at David Spencer's tomorrow afternoon at 12.10. Rowan MacKenzie will talk on "Inflation."

The monthly meeting of the Imperial Veterans' Association will be held on Wednesday evening at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 902 Government Street, at 8.

An executive meeting of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion will be held tomorrow night at 7.30. A membership committee meeting is scheduled for tonight at 7.45.

Entry of the Northern Junk Company, Store Street, and the Deighton Tire Shop, Discovery and Blanchard Streets, was reported to the city police over the week-end. There was nothing reported missing from either place.

A sharp earthquake was recorded at the Dominion Meteorological Observatory at 3.20 Sunday morning. The epicentre was approximately 5,000 miles away, probably near Samoa in the South Pacific. Tremors continued for an hour.

St. Mary's Men's Guild will hold its regular meeting in St. Mary's Hall, Yale Street, Oak Bay, on Thursday evening. The guest speaker will be Rev. G. R. V. Bolster. On Thursday, November 25, the guild will hold its annual bridge party.

"The Claim For Colonies" will be the subject of a lecture this evening at 8.15 in the Central Junior High, under the auspices of the University Extension Association. The lecturer will be Professor A. C. Cooke of the Department of History at the University of British Columbia.

Convicted on charges of stealing a quantity of rabbit metal and bearings from the Cameron Lumber Company, R. Bowcott and E. Stevens were sentenced to 10 and seven days' imprisonment, respectively, by Magistrate Henry Hall in the City Police Court this morning.

The Senior Leaders Corps of the Y.M.C.A., under physical instructor Archie McKinnon, spent the week-end as the guests of Chris and Ron McCrae, corps members, at Sooke. Those members present were: Jack Allison, Norm Collins, Louis Schmelz, Bill Hollborn, C. Treadwell and Chuck McLeod.

A request for assistance to meet a doctor's bill incurred by a fall at the Mary Street and Esquimalt Road intersection is contained in a letter from Ellen C. Vesey received today at the City Hall. Mrs. Vesey stated she had tripped over a car-track at that point, fallen head foremost and suffered a severe gash on the forehead which required medical attention.

The B.C. Electric franchise committee of the City Council will meet W. G. Murrin, president of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, and A. T. Goward, vice-president of the company, tomorrow afternoon. All members of the council have been invited to attend the meeting. A thorough discussion of the franchise is expected.

The Victoria Division No. 65 of the St. John Ambulance Brigade will hold classes for instruction for the next three weeks on Wednesday instead of Fridays as hitherto, commencing next Wednesday. All members are requested to be present at the Hibben-Bone Building, Government Street, at 7.30 p.m., in order to gain their efficiency award for the year 1938.

The general monthly meeting of the Victoria Unit No. 12 Army and Navy Veterans will be held Thursday evening at 8. Two meetings are scheduled for Tuesday evening, the finance committee at 7.30 and the executive at 8. A special Armistice smoking concert will be held on Thursday night, starting at 8.30. A good programme has been arranged. Whist drive nights are Monday, Wednesday and Saturday. Games start at 8.45.

Dr. Patterson spent the long legislative holiday at his Vancouver home and intended to be present at the bridge opening today. Herbert Anscomb went to Vancouver Saturday night for the opening celebration.

Ss. Princess Elizabeth arriving in Victoria tomorrow morning will have on board more than 40 members of British Columbia's Parliament.

Most of the members will go directly to the Parliament Buildings being scheduled to meet tomorrow morning. The Legislature will get down to steady work with the hope of ending the session by the first week in December. Morning sessions will start shortly and during the last week there will probably be three sessions a day.

PREFERS LASH TO JAIL TERM

Patrick O'Malley Asks to Be Whipped So He Would Not Be Detained

A plea that he be lashed rather than be given a jail term, in order that he might get out to visit his sick mother was unheeded when made by an accused man to Magistrate Henry Hall in the City Police Court this morning.

A six months' sentence was imposed. The defendant was Patrick O'Malley, who, with Raymond Penny, was convicted on a charge of having stolen clothing in his possession.

Both men had lengthy records. Forty-three convictions, dating back to 1921, were read against Penny, and 19, dating back to 1933, against O'Malley.

"Judge, if there is anything in the Criminal Code that will give me lashes instead of going to jail, I'd appreciate it because I want to go and see my sick mother," O'Malley said after previous convictions against him had been read.

He said he had only come to Victoria to see his mother, and that he was intoxicated when the offence took place and remembered nothing of it.

Magistrate Hall said he could not believe the story. The accused had stated in his own defence that he had no money when he came here, and yet he had had enough to buy sufficient liquor to get drunk.

Both men were sentenced to six months.

Junior High Names Leaders

Three Officers of Each Division Will Form Students' Council

Educational guidance is now being stressed in the new curriculum of the public schools of British Columbia, and the guidance programme for Victoria's new Central Junior High School started last week when each of the 14 divisions elected officers. They represent the 536 students. Later the three grades will name officers and a suitable programme will be carried out during the term, under the supervision of the Students' Council, A. T. Hunkin, principal, and Miss Olive Heritage, vice-principal.

Following are the officers of each division:

Div. 1—President, Sam Gagliardi; vice-president, Bob Castner; secretary-treasurer, Jean Sargison.

White, G. Blackburn, J. Watson, J. Fleming and H. Hipwood.

NAPOLEON DUPUIS

Prayer service over the remains of Napoleon Dupuis, who passed away suddenly on Friday at his home, Lancaster Street, will be held this evening at 7 at the Sands Mortuary. The cortege will leave the funeral chapel tomorrow morning at 8.45, and fifteen minutes later Rev. Father Carl T. Albury will celebrate requiem high mass in St. Andrew's Cathedral. The remains will be laid at rest in Ross Bay Cemetery.

EMILY JANE ALLEN

Many friends and relatives attended the funeral of Mrs. Emily Jane Allen, held Saturday afternoon at St. Stephen's Church, Mount Newton Crossroad. Rev. J. A. Bastin conducted the service, after which interment was in the churchyard. The following acted as pallbearers: G. J. King, S. Roberts, G. F. Payne, E. L. Well, W. Robertson and R. J. Rasmussen. McCall Bros' Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

THOMAS WILLIAM SPENCER

Yesterday, at St. Joseph's Hospital, the death occurred of Thomas William Spencer, aged 50 years, of Albert Head. Mr. Spencer was born in England and had resided here for 28 years. He is survived by his widow and one son, Frank, at home; also five sisters and three brothers in England and a brother in India. He served in the Great War with the 230th Forestry Corps. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 2, from McCall Bros' Funeral Home. Rev. E. O. Robathan will conduct the service and interment will be in Colwood Burial Park.

THOS. HENRY MOTT

Dr. Thomas Henry Mott passed away suddenly here on Saturday at the age of 75 years. Born at Mount Vernon, Ontario, Dr. Mott was for 40 years a practicing physician in Ontario. Since his retirement he had spent the greater part of the last 13 years in Victoria. A daughter, Mrs. J. A. Pearce, and a son, Victor Mott, both of Victoria, one sister, Mrs. Caroline Stuart, Victoria, and five grandchildren, survive him. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3.30 from the S. J. Curry and Son Funeral Home. Rev. Dr. W. J. Sippell will officiate and interment will be in the family plot at Royal Oak Burial Park.

KATHLEEN GROGAN

Grogan of 313 Vancouver Street, two daughters, Mrs. Annie Kelly, Victoria, and Mrs. Sara Rattenbury, Calgary; two granddaughters and one grandson, and also one great-granddaughter, and one sister, Mrs. Florence Hooper, San Francisco.

Solarium Has Health Record

"Our unblemished record of the past several months in so far as contagious diseases are concerned has continued during the month of October. The health of all children has been excellent, and all cases discharged during the month have shown marked benefits from their stay at the Solarium," noted Dr. Glenn Simpson, medical superintendent, in his monthly report to the Solarium board of directors.

The institutional statistics for the month are as follows: Admissions during October, 6; discharges, 6; number of patients in Solarium, 62; number of patients in Jubilee Hospital, 1; laboratory examinations, 236; X-rays, 7; consultations, 7; physiotherapy treatments, 706; dental treatments, 1; X-ray treatments, 1.

MORE TALKS ON FORESTS

Lumber Industry and Department Hope to Solve Problems

British Columbia's forestry problems will again be discussed this week when representatives of the industry come to Victoria for further discussions with Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, and E. C. Manning, chief forester.

Since the opening of the Legislature three weeks ago these problems have been much to the fore. Legislators have heard from Mr. Manning regarding the need of speedy legislation if the forests of the province are to be saved for posterity and the necessary operations that must be brought into force if the forests are not to be depleted.

The conversations between the lumber industry representatives and the minister and chief forester have been private. Efforts are being made to work out some solution to the problem, which would be satisfactory to both the government and the industry.

An announcement may be made before the end of the present session.

Y.M.C.A. Gains Across Canada

All Associations Reach 1937 Objectives

"The Y.M.C.A. all across Canada is advancing in every respect," said Harry Ballantyne, general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. National Council for Canada, at an informal board meeting of "Y" directors Saturday. H. B. Witter, president of the Victoria association, presided.

The speaker said Y.M.C.A. campaigns during the year 1937 had more than reached their objectives without exception. General programme work had been strengthened and many new men had been admitted to secretaryship in Y.M.C.A.

W. Barrett, former Victorian, who has been in Edmonton for a number of years, will leave shortly for Sudbury, Ontario, where a Y.M.C.A. building is being erected. Mr. Barrett will assume the position of general secretary.

Mr. Ballantyne said a financial campaign to raise $500,000 for the erection of a new building for the Vancouver Y.M.C.A. would be carried on throughout the winter and spring. The speaker was the guest of R. W. Mayhew while in the city.

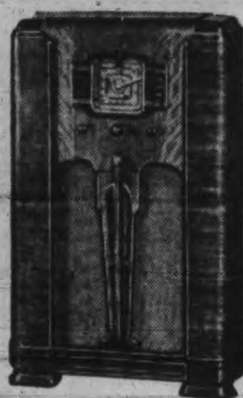

Indian Chief Hurt in Crash

Lewis Pelky, Chief of the Saanich Indians on the East Saanich Reserve, suffered a scalp wound and cuts to his face in an auto accident on the East Saanich Road, near Elk Lake, late Saturday afternoon.

According to a Saanich Police report, Chief Pelky was driving with Simon Tommy, another Indian, when their car and a service truck from the Royal Oak Garage were in collision. The truck was reported to have skidded into Simon Tommy's car, causing it to slide into the ditch. Both cars were damaged.

Mrs. Tommy was also cut in the face, but was taken home, while Chief Pelky received medical attention from Dr. J. P. Vye. Constable J. Bull of the Saanich Police attended the accident.

In computing the number of words in an advertisement, count five words for the first two lines and seven words for each line thereafter. This is not an absolute guide to the number of lines, much depending on the length of the individual words.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one issue. Any claim for rebate on account of errors or omissions must be made within 30 days from the date of the same, otherwise the claim will not be allowed.

Advertisers who desire it may have replies addressed to a box at The Times Office and forwarded to their private address. A charge of 10c is made for this service.

Subscribers wishing their addresses changed should notify this office as well as the carrier. If your Times is missing, phone E4222 after 8 p.m. and a copy will be sent by special messenger.

Generous Winner

LONDON - Publisher Walter Hutchinson—who often gives pound notes to backers who fail to bet on his horses—distributed pound notes to racegoers when his Broad Oaks won the Autumn Cup at Alexandra Park. Hutchinson paid £35 ($173.25) for the horse.

Snow Makes Monkey Tree Beautiful Sight

It takes a snowstorm to make a monkey tree show off to its best. Around Victoria yesterday the monkey trees stole the honors for the most unusual appearance, the strange limbs holding the snow in remarkable forms. The Times cameraman took the above picture in Beacon Hill Park and in the foreground is a group of pretty girls all dolled up for a snowball fight and they got into one soon after this picture was taken.

BRAZIL STANDS BY TREATIES

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Brazil's foreign policy, according to President Getulio Vargas, "is primarily American and only secondarily European."

Under the new regime he intends that Brazil shall strive for further development of the "traditionally friendly relations with the United States."

The new constitution was neither Fascist nor Integralist, he said. Brazil was not likely to adhere to the anti-Comintern pact signed last week by Germany, Italy and Japan. (Integralist is the name of the Brazilian Fascist Party.)

He added, however, "there is not the slightest doubt the new regime gives battle without quarter to the Communist threat both in doctrine and by force."

The President disclosed important new trade policies were effected by decree signed by him Saturday night following a cabinet meeting. Some of these was a reduction of the export tax on coffee from 45 to 12 milraes (from $3.91 to $1.04) a bag or 132.24 pounds.

FOREIGN DEBT

Another was abolition of the regulation under which 35 per cent of export bill requirements must be bought from the Bank of Brazil at the official exchange rate.

Intimating how intimately his measures were connected with the foreign debt, President Vargas explained the temporary suspension of payments of obligations abroad, saying:

"The drop in prices, particularly cotton and coffee—our two largest exports—makes it impossible to burden the exporter with regulation of 35 per cent of exchange. Inasmuch as this 35 per cent is the wherewithal for payments on foreign debts we must revise the scheme of payments so as to pay only what we can within our balance of trade."

Four Drown As Car Plunges

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Two men and two women companions were killed Saturday night when the car in which they were riding plunged off the end of a 300-foot dock into the Detroit River at the west end of the city.

The victims were:
Frank E. Whittaker, 42, superintendent of Gar Wood Industries Limited, Windsor.

Harold Golds, age unknown, Timmins, Ont.

Miss Marjorie Darraugh, 27, Windsor.

Mrs. Helen Reaume, 40, Windsor.

Police sought today to learn how the two couples came to drive off the end of the 20-foot wide dock which reaches out into the stream.

FOUND IN MORNING

The tragedy was discovered Sunday morning when James Garrick, Windsor, went to the dock to fish and noticed the planked floor of the dock bore the marks of something having passed over it. Some of the planks were broken and there were indications a heavy vehicle had scraped the boards.

After more than three hours of hoisting the car was hauled on the dock and the four bodies found inside.

Whittaker was the superintendent of a secondary automotive industry owned by Phil Wood, brother of Gar Wood; the famous motorboat racer. Golds, a representative of the Feldman Timber Company, Timmins, Ont., was in Windsor on a business trip to purchase truck bodies from the company with which Whittaker was connected.

"THAT I MAY LIVE," PLAZA

Dramatic Twentieth-Fox Romance, Showing Here, Stars Rochelle Hudson

The deeply moving story of a love so steadfast that your heart exults, "That I May Live" opens today at the Plaza Theatre with Rochelle Hudson, Robert Kent and J. Edward Bromberg in the featured roles.

A dramatic romance, produced by Twentieth Century-Fox, it tells of a young couple who desperately cling to each other, although love for them must mean flight, danger and fear.

Although primarily a skilled work of entertainment, "That I May Live" brings up some interesting questions concerning what might happen to a young man following his release from prison. Suppose the penitentiary had succeeded in its avowed purpose, by reforming him? What chance would he then have of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness? Does society permit a one-time loser ever to wrest victory from life after the prison stamp has been placed on him? Can he do it alone? If he needs help, where can he find it?

How these three human beings contrive and carry out a plan that will restore Kent to society and jail the real culprits makes for an intensely exciting climax to an emotionally affecting film.

EPIC TALE OF INDIAN DAYS

"The Plainsman," DeMille Film, Current Presentation at Columbia

A colorful period in history, the decade which witnessed the opening of the west, is brought to vibrant life again by the magic of Cecil B. DeMille in "The Plainsman," an inspiring tribute to the men and women who won the west, which opened at the Columbia Theatre today.

Conceived and produced on the broad and lavish scale which has set DeMille apart from all other moving picture directors, "The Plainsman" deals with the ten years which followed the Civil War and tells of the epic struggle and heroism of the frontier people. A tender love story built around the famous frontier characters, "Wild Bill" Hickok and "Calamity Jane," played by Gary Cooper and beautiful Jean Arthur, furnishes the romance.

Bruce Cabot in "Don't Turn 'Em Loose," is the second feature.

MYTHOLOGY IS PLOT'S SOURCE

"This Is My Affair" Comes to Oak Bay Theatre

A well-established modern mythology—a series of present day legends which are the equivalent of yesterday's folklore and old wives' tales—was brought to light when Twentieth Century-Fox executives began delving into the historical background of "This Is My Affair," the Robert Taylor-Barbara Stanwyck-Victor McLaglen story which opens today at the Oak Bay Theatre.

Darryl F. Zanuck, vice-president in charge of production at Twentieth Century-Fox, turned the story idea over to associate producer Kenneth Macgowan and asked him to prepare a screen story. Macgowan assigned trained scenario writers and research experts to the job, but long before the "Allen Rivkin, Lamar Trotti" script of "This Is My Affair" came back to him, he had done a little research of his own, uncovering humorous "modern folk-tales," the secret agent story among them.

The programme also shows the "Coronation Pictures" in Technicolor.

STAGE SHOW HERE TODAY

Amusing Comedy "Room Service" Is Attraction at Royal Victoria

"Room Service" will be presented on the stage of the Royal Victoria Theatre tonight. Produced by George Abbott, responsible for such other stage hits as "Boy Meets Girl," "Three Men On a Horse," "Brother Rat," "Coquette" and "Broadway," his latest New York laugh success, "Room Service" was written by John Murray and Allen Boretz.

It deals with the frenzied antics of a fly-by-night theatrical producer bent on staging a play without a cent in the bank or in his pockets. The wiles to which he resorts furnish the suspense, the situations in which he finds himself supply the many laughs, and the anguish of his helpful girl-friend offers pathos and love interest.

The company seen here is made up of players with established Broadway records who are now members of the famous Abbott Acting Company. They are Robert Williams, Joseph Greenwald, Matt Briggs, Fleming Ward, Clinton Sundberg, Mary Cheffey, Nat Canton, Patricia Palmer, Marshall Bradford, John Clarke, Michael Dalmatoff, Herbert Treitel, Edward Nannery, Russell Morrison, J. Ascher Smith and Alva King.

"GOOD EARTH" AT THE ATLAS

Paul Muni and Luise Rainer Cast in Powerful Drama

Chinese Gables and Oriental Garbos are not such a flight of fancy as Occidentals imagine. The often-repeated theory that the Chinese are a stoical race, concealing their emotions and therefore unable to be good actors, is contradicted by Sidney Franklin, director of "The Good Earth" at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. The picture is now at the Atlas Theatre.

"West of Shanghai" Dominion Film

"West of Shanghai," a melodramatic Warner Bros. thriller, will have its first local showing tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre.

Boris Karloff, chiefly familiar to movie audiences from his playing of "horror" pictures, is a war lord. He is a Chinese bandit general. He is genial and good-natured—and despite the fact that he does a little killing now and then—a rather likeable fellow on the whole.

The feminine romantic interest is carried by Beverly Roberts, playing a young medical missionary, and a screen newcomer, Sheila Bromley, as a daughter of the financier Galt.

"West of Shanghai" was directed by John Farrow, from a screen play by Crane Wilbur, based upon Porter Emerson Browne's "The Bad Man."

"Beef-eaters" and English Food

More than 300 years ago, there was a plot to blow up the Houses of Parliament in London. Gunpowder was placed in the basement, and if it had not been found in time, many law-makers would have lost their lives.

Beef-eaters in a London warehouse.

Guy Fawkes was the leader of the plotters, and each year there is a day set aside in memory of the event. The holiday is called Guy Fawkes Day, and children repeat the words, "Remember, remember, the Fifth of November." The idea is to remember never to let any such plot be carried out.

The English do remember. Each year, just before Parliament meets, certain men search the basement to make sure no explosives are stored there. The men are dressed in quaint costumes of old design, and are known as "beef-eaters."

That name "beef-eaters" often is applied to Englishmen in general, for beef is a popular meat in England. Ranking after beef are mutton and lamb.

An Englishman is an expert at eating with his fork. Holding it in his left hand, he loads it up with meat or vegetables. He holds his knife in his right hand, and uses it to cut the food and place it on the fork.

Instead of using salt shakers, the English put salt in small bowls or "cellars" and take it out with tiny spoons. The salt cellar is also in wide use. It has one large hole in the centre, and the salt is poured from this hole to the side of the dinner plate.

In an English restaurant, the waitress often says "Thank you" as she hands you something you have ordered. The reply to "thank you" in England is another "thank you." One seldom hears the words, "You're welcome."

Tea is the national drink. In some households, it is served morning, noon, afternoon and evening. Almost everyone in the country has tea in the afternoon, between 4 and 5. Buttered bread and little cakes are served along with the tea.

If we figure an average of four cups of tea per day for each person in England over the age of 10, we find that the daily consumption is over 6,000,000 gallons. Some persons drink from six to 10 cups a day, but I believe four cups is a fair average.

Coffee is served sometimes, but it really is half-coffee and half-milk. If you ask for pure cream for your coffee at a restaurant, you are charged extra, usually "tuppence," which amounts to four cents.

AGED MAN LOSES LIFE

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (CP)—Apparently the victim of exposure, James Shannon, 81, was found dead in shrubbery near the bank of the South Saskatchewan River here Sunday. The aged man, who lived in Vancouver until a year ago, had been the subject of a 12-hour search when the body was discovered by an early morning fisherman. Marks in the snow showed he had wandered around in circles before he collapsed.

Which Sex Is More Cheerful?

Dorothy Dix

Palm Should Be Given To Men

A CORRESPONDENT asks: Which are happier, men or women? This question cannot be answered concretely because happiness is not a matter of sex but of temperament. It depends more upon whether one is born with a good digestion and an optimistic disposition than upon whether one was a girl baby or a boy baby.

Still and all, this is a man's world and men get the best of it even in happiness. Of course, there are pessimistic gentlemen who wear crepe trousers and whose conversation makes the lamentations of Jeremiah sound like a joke book. Also, there are jolly ladies whose laughter is hung on a hair-tripper and who see nothing but sunshine in this best of all possible good worlds. But these wailing men and smiling women are exceptions to the general rule and, taking the sexes by and large, undoubtedly men are more cheerful and have a knack of shedding their troubles that women do not possess.

Just why men should be happier than women, it is hard to say, since both share alike in the sorrows and trials and tribulations that are our common lot. Both must mourn their dead. Both know the bitterness of disappointments, frustrated hopes and ambitions. Both have their hearts torn with anxiety and bear burdens under which they faint. But, somehow, men seem to have more courage in facing misfortunes and a sounder philosophy of life than women have. They can take it on the chin and come up smiling, whereas one hard blow from Fate knock out most women for keeps.

Men are happier than women because they make a definite, intelligent effort to be happy. They try to put their troubles behind them and forget them. They don't keep them alive by talking about them. But women make a cult of grief. They coddle their sorrows and nurse them and water them with their tears until they grow so big they dominate their whole lives. They don't even try to do anything to lighten their gloom. And that is why men "get over" sorrows and women don't.

You can see this difference in the way men and women meet trouble illustrated all along the line. Take marriage, for example. There are just as many unhappily married men as there are unhappily married women, but it is the poor, neglected wives who weep upon our breasts and spill their tales of woe into our ears—not the poor, neglected husbands.

Doubtless a man is just as much disappointed when he finds that he married a shrew or a virago or a gadder as a woman is when she finds out that she has married a philanderer or a groucher or a tightwad. But the man doesn't let his disappointment spoil his whole existence as the woman does. He throws himself into his work. He takes up golf, cultivates friends and gets along quite comfortably. Whereas the wife whose husband fails to measure up to her desires does nothing but cry over her blighted dreams.

And look what trouble-borrowers women are! There are millions of women who keep themselves miserable fearing some catastrophe that never happens. They get a nervous breakdown wondering what they should do if their husbands lost their money or the children were kidnapped or they developed a cancer or their husbands fell in love with a platinum blonde or their baby daughters grew up and married husbands who beat them.

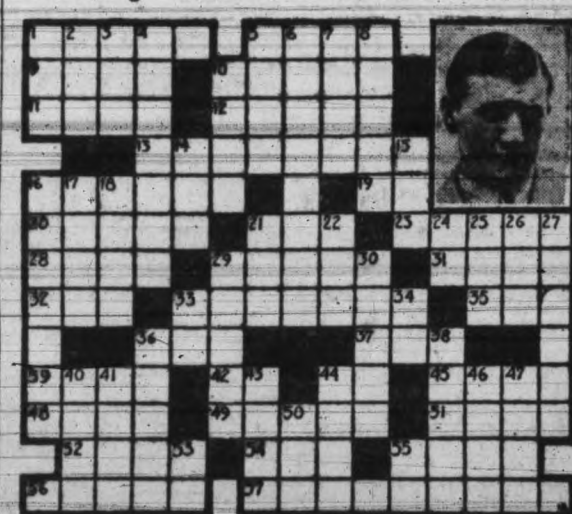

It took a woman trouble-borrower to originate the theory that because her middle-aged husband didn't tell her every day how beautiful and wonderful she was indicated that he no longer loved her. No man would ever have lost any sleep wondering if his fat and grizzled Maria had ceased to love him because she didn't act like a Lady Love in the movies.

And another reason that women are so seldom happy is because they have such a superhuman talent for worrying. They don't have to have an occasion. They can pull off a stunt any time; any place. They can worry over their families, over the housekeeping, over the servants, over a new dress or hat, over getting fat, over everything and anything under the sun. That is what gives them that melancholy look and puts lines in their faces. Whereas men seldom trouble trouble until trouble troubles them.
